TESTIMONY AGAINST KELLEY AND DAVIDSON

Witnesses Give Damaging Testimony---Defendants
Introduce Evidence to Controvert Same.

(By Jesse E. Burtz.)

PALATKA, June 23.—The second day of the special term of the circuit court of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, at which is being tried the case of the State vs. James Kelley and D. M. Davidson, charged with the murder of W. C. Sellars, night watchman of the Atlantic Coast Line shops at High Springs, in August, 1906, was called to order at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Judge J. T. Wills presiding.

Peter Burkhart, a State witness who was on the stand at the hour of adjournment Monday, was recalled, and was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by the defense.

J. M. Smith, the first witness in the trial, was recalled by the defense, and was questioned regarding the description of the two men whom he recognized coming down the rock road just prior to the killing of Sellars. Witness stated that he described the men before the coroner's jury. Asked by the State why he did not testify before the coroner's jury that the men he saw resembled Kelley and Melvaine, Davidson's meat cutter, witness replied that he was "one against many," and that he was afraid he would be shot. He declared he had at one time prior to the shooting of Kelley been shot at in High Springs. Witness referred to frequent thefts of merchandise, principally whiskey, which was stolen from cars at High Springs while he was employed there.

G. H. Knight was in High Springs, and was seated on platform of passenger station at the time Sellars was shot. Just prior to the shooting he saw Davidson, J. M. Smith and Sellars standing together on the freight warehouse platform. Described the movements of the men, but did not notice anything unusual. As the shot was fired the trio had left the platform and started toward him. Davidson was in front, Smith second and Sellars in the rear. Heard Davidson say: "You boys come into the waiting room, and if there is anybody trying to rob these cars, we will catch them." About that time Davidson raised his left hand, pointing toward the track, and simultaneously a gun was fired from behind a flat car and Sellars fell. Another shot was fired. A few seconds after the first report witness ran into the colored waiting room; heard a number of shots afterward in vicinity of depot.

On cross-examination witness stated that he testified before the coroner's jury; that he thought this testimony was taken down in writing, but he did not sign the same. Witness did not tell all he knew, because he was afraid to do so. He did testify that a few moments after the shot which killed Sellars was fired Cleve Roland came from around the car from which the shot was fired. Roland had a pistol, but witness did not know whose pistol it was.

H. J. Sausby resides at Jasper. Was employed as night operator of the Atlantic Coast Line on March 6, 1906. He saw Davidson and a man who was pointed out to him as Sellars standing on the depot platform. Witness stated that he also saw a man pass him wearing a rubber coat, and described the man. This was prior to the shooting. After the shooting (several minutes) witness saw the same man shooting in the vicinity of the Troy Hotel, across the street from the depot. He saw the man again the following day and recognized him as one he believed to be one Melvaine.

On cross-examination witness stated that he testified before the coroner's jury, also at the habeas corpus proceedings, but did not tell all he knew.

When shot which struck Sellars was fired witness observed Smith with gun, and heard Davidson remark: "For God's sake don't shoot me." Smith and Davidson were then in the waiting room.

Asked if Special Agent Bryan of the Atlantic Coast Line had ever approached him in regard to this case, witness replied that Bryan had asked him to testify.

Saulters resides at Rochelle. Was in High Springs at transfer shed the night Sellars was killed and heard two shots. He proceeded toward the shops, and on the way two men passed within a few steps of him, whom he recognized as Melvaine and Kelley. They were attired in what appeared to be rubber coats, and Kelley had a gun. Afterwards he saw Kelley and Melvaine approach Davidson's place, when Kelley passed the gun in the window.

On cross-examination witness stated that he had never testified in this case before.

Witness said that he and D. M. Davidson were not on unfriendly terms, but admitted that he and Davidson's son had some trouble, and he did not like young Davidson. The defense brought out the fact that the trouble arose over an account the witness owed Davidson. This witness was also subjected to a severe cross-examination, being required by the aid of a sketch of the surroundings to indicate the point where the two men passed by him, and his movements from that point to Davidson's restaurant, where he testified the gun was passed in at the window.

Witness was asked if he had ever been convicted of any crime, to which he replied that he had been convicted of selling liquor in Georgia.

Witness had known Kelley three or four months, Melvaine about four weeks.

D. D. Sledge of Jacksonville, an engineer, was employed by the Atlantic Coast Line in August, 1906. He was in High Springs the night Sellars was shot.

Shortly after 10 o'clock, while on his way from down town to the depot, he heard a shot, but paid no particular attention to it. Upon arriving at the depot witness saw Davidson, Pete Burkhart and one or two others. Davidson approached him, asking him if he had seen anybody down the track. Witness replied that he saw a man about some cars, whereupon Davidson informed him that the man was a special agent of the A. C. L. sent from Tampa to break up stealing, and that if he (referring to Sellars) did not get out of town he would have to be attended to. Davidson told witness that someone had shot at him (Davidson) that night.

Witness testified before the grand jury at Gainesville on two occasions. He did not tell before the grand jury the first time all he knew, only answering questions asked. Witness denied that he was discharged by the A. C. L. because he refused to testify against Davidson, but on account of reckless running. He was reinstated by the B. of L. E. about one month ago. R. W. West knows defendant, James Kelley. Was living at High Springs the night Sellars was killed. Six or seven weeks after the killing, and within a few feet of the spot where Sellars was shot, he had a conversation with Kelley. It was a rainy afternoon, and witness had sought shelter under the eaves of the freight depot, when Kelley came up with a gun, and requested him to hold the gun while he rolled a cigarette. While thus engaged, Kelley remarked:

"Look at that gun. Ain't she a bird?"

To which witness replied that it looked like a good one.

"You are right, it's a good one," said Kelley. "This is the gun that put those holes in there (pointing to the perforations caused by the contents of the gun which killed Sellars) and I am the ——— who pulled the trigger."

Witness stated that he cautioned Kelley about speaking so freely of the affair.

Witness stated that shortly after the session of the grand jury in Gainesville, Davidson called him to one side in High Springs and told him he had heard that he and Pete Burkhart had testified before the jury against him. West replied that he did not know anything about Burkhart's testimony, but that he had said nothing against him. Davidson told witness that if he did testify against him and deprive him of his liberty he could not live in High Springs.

A cross-examination failed to develop anything additional, except that the witness held a position as section foreman.

J. L. Shaw is a deputy sheriff residing in Baker county. Was night officer at High Springs shortly after the killing of Sellars. Kelley, J. M. Grainger and witness were standing in the vicinity of where Sellars fell. Kelley appeared to be angered at the yard foreman, and remarked: "I have three on my string now (holding up three fingers), and if that ——— yard master don't let me alone I'll make it four."

Witness stated that upon one occasion Kelley told him that he killed Sellars.

Nothing of importance developed upon cross-examination of this witness.

At 12:30 court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The court was called to order at 2 p. m.

J. L. Shaw, deputy sheriff of Baker county, who was on the stand when court adjourned at noon, was recalled for a brief cross-examination.

The next witness called was D. W. Jernigan of Savannah, Ga., a special officer in Judge Van Geisel's court. Resided in Savannah for about 23 years, with exception of eleven months, during which he lived in Jacksonville.

Witness knew defendant (Kelley) both in Savannah and Jacksonville. Saw Kelley in Jacksonville in September, 1908. Witness at that time was working for A. C. L. at Jacksonville. Said Kelley told him that Sellars, a special agent of the A. C. L., had arrived in High Springs for the purpose of breaking up the stealing of whiskey from the cars at High Springs. He stated that Kelley related the details of a conspiracy to kill Sellars, stating that Kelley told him he fired the gun which killed Sellars.

During the revelation of this story Kelley created a mild sensation in court by rising in his seat, looking straight into the eyes of the witness, and emphatically exclaiming: "You lie like a dog!" The defendant was drawn back into his chair.

The witness was severely cross-examined. Said that Kelley's first and subsequent conversation regarding the killing of Sellars was in substance the same as already related. He reported the matter to Mr. Bryan of the A. C. L., for whom he was working at the time.

Witness admitted that he expected to receive his expenses and $5 a day for coming to court to testify in

SUMMER NORMAL WILL OPEN ON NEXT MONDAY

Indications Are That the Term Will Be Largely Attended by Teachers Generally.

The Summer Normal opens in this city on Monday, and judging from the large number of letters and inquiries now being received it will be well attended.

At the last session of the Legislature no appropriation was made for defraying part of the expense of railroad fare to the teachers, and this, it was thought, would interfere with the attendance to some extent, but this doubt has already been removed.

The sessions for this term will be held in the High School auditorium, and being located right in the city will be more accessible.

Furthermore, the carpenters and painters now have everything torn up and scattered so much at the University building that it would be impossible to hold the sessions at that place.

A strong faculty has been secured to instruct the school for this term and the interest that is usually manifested in this work will bring much good results. The faculty:

A. A. Murphree, President University of Florida, principal; psychology, pedagogy.

W. L. Floyd, Professor of Science, University of Florida; botany, zoology, physics.

Tom F. McBeath, Professor Pedagogy, Industrial Institute and College, Columbus, Miss.; arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry.

I. I. Himes, Principal Palatka High School; rhetoric, English grammar, Florida history, political geography.

P. W. Corr, Principal South Florida Normal Institute; English literature, orthography, reading, composition.

H. A. Ferrell, Principal Apalachicola High School; general history, physical geography, U. S. history, civil government.

W. H. Russell, Principal Jasper Normal Institute; Latin, plane geometry, solid geometry.

R. M. Evans, Principal Osceola High School; U. S. history, botany, physical geography, Florida history.

Miss Jessie Morrell, Principal of the Primary Department of the St. Petersburg High School; primary methods, drawing.

this case. Upon being asked by counsel for defense from whom he expected the $5 per day, witness replied, "from Mr. Bryan."

The State Rests.

At the conclusion of the examination of this witness Attorney Rivers announced that the State would rest.

Court took a recess of an hour in order for attorneys for defense to confer, and was called to order again at 1:10 p. m.

J. H. Fields was recalled. Witness was asked if he knew Miss Davidson, to which he replied that he did. Denied that he was with her for an hour before the shooting of Sellars.

H. L. Thomas was the first witness for defense. Knew James Kelley; was living in High Springs at the time Sellars was shot and at the time the gun was fired he was with Kelley at a table in the restaurant eating a lunch. Someone rushed in and said Davidson was shot. Davidson came in a second later and remarked: "Boys, a man has been shot, let's go and find out something about it."

Witness, Davidson, Kelley and others went to scene, where he saw Sellars lying down.

On cross-examination witness stated that he was employed as a machinist in the A. C. L. shops at the time. Kelley was dressed in his working clothes, with black shirt and dark trousers. There were a number of people in the restaurant at the time the shot was fired.

Witness afterward went to work for Davidson, because he desired lighter employment.

J. L. O'Neal knows James Kelley; was in High Springs the night Sellars was killed. Was in Davidson's restaurant when the guns were fired, and Kelley was also in the restaurant.

On cross-examination, witness stated that his home is at Largo, but that he held a position as brakeman on the Coast Line.

Two or three days after the killing, when it was intimated that Kelley was suspected, he remarked to Kelley that he (witness) could not see how he (Kelley) could be suspected, as he would swear he was in the restaurant at the time the gun was fired.

After guns were fired witness went to the scene with crowd, where he saw Sellars lying down.

Mrs. Fannie Smith knows James Kelley; was in High Springs the night Sellars was killed. She and her husband were going home from the shops, and stopped at the restaurant for a moment, as Mr. Smith

Negro Woman in Jail for Murdering Her Husband

Betsey Shannon, a negress of Atachua, has been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hague and brought here on the charge of having killed her husband at that place on the night of March 25th.

The coroner's jury, which was in session part of two days, used every effort at that time to try and find out the guilty party or parties of the foul murder, but nothing transpired that would give them any clue as to the guilty ones, and they adjourned, rendering a verdict accordingly.

Deputies Hague and Marclonny have been quietly working on the case for the past few weeks, and during last week unearthed sufficient evidence, they believe, to convict the woman upon the charge of killing her husband, and the young boys as accessories.

It will be remembered that this old negro man was called to his door one Sunday evening, about 8 o'clock, and shot from ambush, and the supposed guilty ones fled. The murdered negro was a peaceable, quiet citizen, who attended to his own affairs and no cause could be assigned for such an act at that time.

Deputy Sheriff Hague believes he has secured all the evidence that will be needed for the conviction of the parties, but is still working upon the case, which he says will also implicate some of the other negroes of the place.

MRS. MADDOX MAKES A HANDSOME GAIN

POLLS LARGEST VOTE IN COUNT OF WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Only a Few More Weeks in Which to Get Busy for Handsome Capital Prizes.

The voting in the Co-Operative Contest has been lively since last Monday.

Miss Hattie English of Tacoma again takes the lead in the Southern and Eastern Section, Miss Hattie Ludwig holds first in the Western, and Miss Addie Goode makes a gain on Miss Beal in the Gainesville section, with all candidates receiving handsome votes, the largest, however, being Mrs. H. Maddox of Archer, who again takes second place in the Western Section.

If you have not already tried The Sun plan of getting votes while you are idle at your homes, you had better send for a subscription list of your section and get busy. You can collect up and get the votes, besides you will have the list and you will know better who to approach and ask to subscribe for the paper.

While you are thus engaged in soliciting for the paper you can remind your friends of the business houses that are in the contest and have them remember them when visiting the city.

Miss Lucinda Bryant sends in two clubs to the weekly, which shows what one can do when you make an effort.

Following is the result of the canvass:

The Smuggled Box.

A joker had some fun with the customs officials at New York some years ago. A servant had gone ashore from a German liner with a basket and was about to leave the pier when a passenger whispered to a customs officer that he had better see what the basket contained. Following the tip, the basket bearer was detained, and a wooden box was found among a lot of soiled linen. The box contained another and this still another box, the third securely fastened with screws. When these were removed a card was discovered on which was written in three languages, "This is the 1st of April. Many happy returns of the day."

Poor Milk

Is often thought to be responsible for an infant's loss in weight or general poor health. The cause usually is that the child has worms. They get the nourishment of the food and the baby starves, actually starves. White's Cream Vermifuge expels the worms and nourishes the child, sure and safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

TESTIMONY AGAINST KELLEY AND DAVIDSON

wanted some cigars. Kelley was in the restaurant at the time. After they left the restaurant and had gone a few steps, the two shots were fired. She heard other shots, but was somewhat excited and did not know how many. Witness went immediately home, going by the rock road.

There were several gentlemen in the restaurant, but Kelley was the only man she recognized, as Kelley bowed and spoke to her. Witness stated that her husband is dead, and that she now resides in Gainesville. She was not aware of Kelley's arrest until she saw him in the Alachua county jail, where she went with some other ladies to visit some prisoners.

Court adjourned until 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

This case continues to attract a great deal of interest, and is being stubbornly contested on both sides by as competent legal talent as can be secured in the State. Large crowds are in attendance at each session, and the court room is almost inadequate to accommodate them.

MODERN TROGLODYTES.

The Matrnas, the Cave Dwellers of Tunisia, Africa.

One of the strangest of capital cities is that of the troglodytes, or Matrnas, the cave dwellers of Tunisia, Africa. It contains about 3,000 inhabitants, and the principle of its architecture is to dig into the earth rather than to build upon it. These troglodytes are to be found between the town of Gabes, on the Tunisian coast, and the sand hills of the Sahara. The country is a high, rocky plateau, barren, sun baked and swept by the si-moom. When a Matrnata wants a new dwelling he chooses his spot, traces a circle and then digs until he has reached the desired depth, which varies according to the number of stories he requires.

The rooms consist of caves hollowed out in the sides of the circular pit, the bottom of which forms a patio, or courtyard, which is the usual feature of a Moorish house. Besides the rooms, a passage is also dug, communicating with the outside world, and a door is made at the outer end.

The soil, which is a kind of malleable clay, is easily cut and lends itself well to excavation. The roof of each room requiring no support as long as it is arched. These underground dwellings are not damp.—Chicago News.

POSITION FOR SLEEP.

A Variety of Opinions Among Eminent French Medical Men.

A number of eminent French medical men have given their opinion to the Matin of Paris on what they consider the healthiest position for sleep.

Dr. Delorme, army medical inspector, declares that the natural position is to lie flat on one's back. Professor De-bone and Dr. Daveniere of the School of Hygiene are of the same opinion and point out that lying on either side causes pressure of the arm, which may eventually bring about paralysis.

Dr. Landouzy of the medical faculty says that the best position is the most comfortable position, and this is acquired by habit. It would be well, however, to accustom oneself to sleep on the right side. Dr. Letulle of the Medical academy maintains emphatically that the sleeper should always lie on the right side and thus avoid indigestion and heart troubles.

In startling contradiction comes a statement from a heart specialist, Dr. Huchard: "I always sleep on my left side, and I think it is quite immaterial whether you lie on your left or right side. The idea, however, that those who cannot lie on the left side suffer from heart affection is quite erroneous."

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S.S.S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really nothing more than strong mineral mixtures which act as unpleasantly and disastrously on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even if such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S.S.S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made entirely of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S.S.S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition when it has purified the blood. Book containing much valuable information on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

ANOTHER SHUT OUT BY THE OAK HALLS

WIN THIRD AND LAST GAME OF SERIES FROM CORDELE.

Better Crowd in Attendance Than At the Former Games—Visitors
Couldn't Bunch Hits.

Superb fielding coupled up with good batting enabled the local team to take the third game of the series with the Cordele club, making three straight victories.

The Oak Halls showed considerable improvement yesterday over the two former games, both in the field and at the bat. Lawson pitched for the Oaks and heaved a pretty game, holding the Georgians safe at all times, as they could not get the necessary bingles when they were needed.

The visitors were clearly outclassed, as they could not break up the fast work of the home team. By winning the first three games gives Manager Davis' boys a good start, and they are now in prime condition to meet anything in the State.

The visitors will leave today for Ocala, where they are scheduled to play a three-game series with the Brick City team.

DR. RANDOLPH HERE.

Came to Examine R. L. Owens in County Jail.

Dr. Jas. P. Randolph, one of the physicians in charge of the asylum for the insane at Chattahoochee, was in the city part of Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of making a thorough examination of R. L. Owens, the condemned white man now confined in the county jail.

He was sent here by Governor Gilchrist, who was acting upon a lengthy petition filed with him only a few days since, and which bore the names of a large number of the jury that found him guilty.

This petition stated that they believed now that the man was mentally unbalanced, and it was to thoroughly satisfy himself that the Governor had the physician from the asylum come and make the examination.

One of the gentlemen who was present stated that it was the most thorough he had ever witnessed in his life, but the physician was noncommittal on just what his recommendations to the Governor would be.

WAS BOUND OVER.

Boyzie George Given Preliminary Hearing Before Justice Carlisle.

Boyzie George, the negro charged with assault with intent to kill Ed Lollar last week, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Carlisle on Wednesday and bound over in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of court.

It will be remembered that George pulled his pistol and began shooting right into a crowd of negroes who were alighting from a train on the Seaboard at Arredondo.

Another case before Justice Carlisle was that of Sam Cook vs. Shad Sams, distress for rent. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $35 and costs.

In the District Court of the United States, Northern District of Florida—in the Matter of Necles George, Voluntary Bankrupt—in Bankruptcy.

To the Creditors of Necles George of Gainesville, Florida, in the county of Alachua, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 22nd day of June, A. D., 1909, the said Necles George was duly adjudicated a bankrupt; and that the first meeting of the creditors of said bankrupt will be held at Gainesville, Florida, in the offices of Clark & Fielding, on the 6th day of July, A. D., 1909, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before the said meeting.

This the 22nd day of June, A. D. 1909. THOMAS W. FIELDING, Referee in Bankruptcy, Gainesville, Florida.

KILLING AT LACROSSE.

One Negro Kills Another About a Woman—Meagre Particulars.

News of another killing comes from LaCrosse, which occurred at that place on last Saturday.

Hon. J. G. Dampier, commissioner from that district, states that the weapon used was a double barrel shotgun, and that nine buckshot from the load took effect in the negro, from which he died within a very short while.

None of the particulars could be learned, further than the negro that did the killing was named Powell and that the fight occurred over a woman. Following the shooting the negro made his escape and has since not been apprehended, although they believe that he will come in within the next few days and give himself up to the authorities.

What Brown Did.

Mrs. and Mr. Brown—that isn't the usual way of putting it, but it was the way they ranked—had been invited to a party where, Mrs. Brown understood, there was to be a host of literary lions. Mrs. Brown is an extremely handsome woman and just enough of a coquette to attract men about her wherever she goes.

Not long after they had arrived Mrs. Brown had four men around her, while Brown was pretending to be interested in some books scattered around on a corner table. Mrs. Brown inquired of the men in turn as to just what sort of literature they produced. One confessed he was a coffee broker, another was a doctor, the third was a machinery salesman. The fourth man admitted cheerfully that his only service to literature was reading books and newspapers. At this point Brown joined the group, and the coffee broker suggested to the lady that she might ask the newcomer what he did.

"Oh," remarked Mrs. Brown, placing B. at once in the discard, "he's my husband."—Exchange.

Extinct.

"Bessie," said the teacher of the class which taught all about birds—in the school prospectus it was called the "ornithological division"—"give me the name of one bird which is now extinct."

Bessie wrinkled her brows. "What's extinct, please?" she asked. "No longer existent," explained the teacher. "Can you name one?" "Yes," piped Bessie readily. "Dick." "Dick—Dick?" repeated the teacher. "And what kind of bird is a 'Dick,' please?" "Our canary," answered Bessie. "The cat extincted him."

Marquis.

The designation marquis is the second in the five orders of English nobility. The term originally indicated persons who had the care of the marches of a country. The word marches is the plural of mark, which in its political sense signifies boundaries. Such were the lands on the borders of England and Scotland and of England and Wales.

BUSY BUSINESS MEN

Science Helps Them Out After Recklessly Abusing the Stomach.

The most reckless man in regard to health is the busy business man. At noon he rushes out for a bite to eat. He bolts his food without proper mastication, and heaps on his stomach an extra burden greater than it is able to carry without breaking down.

His overworked stomach is crying for help; it appeals to him for relief in various ways: Expulsion of sour gas; waterbrash; sour taste in mouth; heaviness after eating; shortness of breath; bad breath, etc.

One Mi-o-na tablet taken with or after each meal will help any sufferer from dyspepsia wonderfully. It aids the stomach in the work of digestion which it must perform.

Mi-o-na tablets are sold by J. W. McCollum & Co. at 50 cents a large box, with a rigid guarantee to cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles, or money back. They make eating a pleasure.

Mi-o-na cleanses and purifies the stomach and bowels and puts vigor and strength into the overworked tissues. It is the surest stomach tonic in the world.

Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS.

There are three sides to every dispute—the inside and the outside and the wrong side, says Herbert Kaufman. Make sure you see the right side when you pass judgment. But before you bother about the matter at all figure out whether it's any affair of yours to give an opinion. Chances are that you are a meddling, meddling, interfering butter-in—a self-constituted, unsummoned jury of one.

See to it when you chase the chickens out of your neighbor's garden that you, yourself, don't create more havoc by trampling down the flowers. Mind your own business. If you have one, it needs all the attention you can give it. If you find that you have any attention to spare, you need a new sort of business.

Lending advice is like lending money—it destroys every other friendship. A still tongue is a multitude of virtues.

Get out of the habit of making other people's beds. Keeping your own comfortable is a good-sized life-task. The man who shoots off his mouth and kills a good name deserves as much punishment as that other type of prize idiot, who shoots off a gun without noticing where it's pointed. The fact that neither one knows "it is loaded" doesn't heal the hurt.

YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW.

"Those of us doing business today, tagged with all the frills and flourishes that our modern methods require," says The Ocala Banner, "are puzzled to know how our fathers managed to do business at all."

"They had no steel nor fountain pens. They had to take time to make their own pens from goose quills. They had no blotters. After writing a letter they had to give time for the ink to dry. Then they had no envelopes. They folded the letter and used sealing wax instead. Their stationery was unprinted. They had no printed letter heads nor note heads, nor bill heads, and did not resort to the monthly statement. They had no typewriters nor stenographers. They had no postage stamps, and paid so many cents a letter according to the distance it traveled. There were no such things as delivery wagons nor messenger boys, and every man lugged his purchases home. There were no bicycles, no autos, no telephones, no electric lights, no express companies, no railroads, no daily newspapers and very few, if any, weekly ones."

"And yet there was a happiness in living then, more so, perhaps, than there is today. There were no very rich and yet no very poor. No man felt isolated and alone because of his poverty. Every man knew his next-door neighbor and every neighbor was a friend."

"The woods were full of game, and fish were in abundance in every lake and stream, and there were no laws regulating fishing, hunting nor trapping. The spinning wheel and loom were a part of every home and every man was more or less independent. He lived at home, and the tariff laws bore upon him most lightly. Under this system there was built up a rugged and robust race of people, and for true happiness the era just before the invention of steam and electricity and so many labor-saving inventions has never been excelled in any age, though it must be admitted that it is a wonderful thing to be surrounded with all the comforts and luxuries our modern civilization makes possible if one's pocketbook is large enough to afford them. As luxurious and rapid as we think this century is the next one will look upon it as a bit poky and will marvel how we managed to exist without aeroplanes and other machines with which to navigate the air. Our posterity will flit about from place to place like the birds of the air and wings will be a part of one's everyday equipment."

Judge W. R. Johnston died at Kissimmee on the 16th inst., aged sixty-five years. Referring to his death The Valley Gazette of that place says: "While for the past three weeks it had been known the time was short that he would be numbered among the living, still there was a sadness laid upon this town when his death occurred that has seldom been felt or known before. As a soldier who wore the gray, there were none more loyal and brave; as a judge, there were none more just; as a friend, there were none more faithful. He had seen Kissimmee grow from a trading post to a beautiful and populous city, and during all those years he had the respect, the esteem and the love of the whole people. When Judge Johnston fell on sleep a full man passed from earth." Deceased was born in Liberty Hill, S. C., in 1844, and was county judge of Osceola county at the time of his death.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists, 75 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

DOING THEM JUSTICE.

Much has been said in unkindness recently about the course of the Florida members of Congress in regard to the tariff bill. They have been criticised for asking for a share of protection for the benefit of their constituents and roundly scored because they have not seen fit to subordinate the welfare of their people to exaggerated ideas of the greatness and goodness of Bryan.

The Jacksonville Metropolis, in a few words, pays the Florida members a deserved compliment and gives them credit for just what they are doing. The Metropolis says:

"The Senators and Representatives in Congress from Florida are doing what they can and what they deem is best for their people in the tariff matter now under consideration."

"For the people"—and what higher aim could any Representative or Senator have? Expending time and lung power in extolling the virtues of a leader builds up no Florida industries, deepens no Florida waterways. The Florida delegation in Congress has always been noted for being composed of men who work for their State. And work is worth a whole lot more than talk when one has to deal with "Uncle Sam."—Tampa Tribune.

A subscriber requests The Sun to publish the law passed by the last Legislature relating to the shipment of fresh water fish from Alachua county. We have no copy of this law, but it simply makes it a misdemeanor to ship beyond the limits of this county any fish (except catfish) caught in any of the fresh water lakes, streams or ponds of the county. The law also prohibits transportation companies from receiving for shipment beyond the limits of the county any such fish. The act does not take effect until July 16, 1909, the same having been approved May 17, 1909.

But it will be sometime before the "Airship Limited" begins to run between Washington and New York.

A MUTUAL SURPRISE.

The Meeting Between an Ambitious Hunter and His First Grizzly.

In "Sketches of Life in the Golden State" Colonel Albert S. Evans tells an amusing anecdote of an ambitious hunter who met his first grizzly bear—in procession. The incident occurred in the woods near the site of the present town of Monterey.

The hunter sat down to rest in the shade of a tree and unwittingly went to sleep. When he woke it was near sunset, and he sat up, rubbing his eyes and contemplating a return to his hotel, several miles distant.

Just then a rustling and crackling noise from a clump of chaparral about 100 yards away attracted his attention. Out walked a grizzly bear, a monarch of his kind. He yawned, licked his jaws and then advanced toward the tree where our hunter sat, but evidently was unconscious of his presence.

His grizzly majesty had proceeded about twenty paces when a female bear followed him, and an instant later a third grizzly followed her at a slow, shambling pace.

The hunter sat spellbound with terror as the procession came toward him until the forward grizzly was within thirty yards. Then, scarcely realizing what he did, he sprang to his feet and uttered a frenzied yell—yell upon yell!

The effect was magical. The foremost bear sprang into the air, turned sharply about, knocked the female down, rolled over her, gathered himself up and bolted "like forty cart loads of rock going down a chute" straight for the chaparral again, the other two bears close at his heels and never turning to see what had frightened them.

The hunter, seeing the enemy retreating, sprang to his feet and fled at top speed for the hotel, leaving hat and gun behind. The truth of his wild and startling tale was proved the next day by the numerous bear tracks of different sizes found in the marshy ground near by. But the three bears had gone off beyond pursuit.

KNEW HIS BUSINESS.

The Little Boy Was Thoroughly Posted on the Elevator.

"Little boy," exclaimed the portly lady, "you ought to be at school instead of trying to work a lift."

"I'm not trying to work it," was the answer. "I am working it, and if you wish to ride I shall be happy to accommodate you. So far as any obligation to be at school is concerned, allow me to remind you that this is a legal holiday, and I am exempt from attendance at an institution where, I am pleased to say, I am at the head of my class."

"You have no business trying to work that lift, anyhow."

"For what reason?"

"Because you are too young to know anything about it."

"Madam, allow me to reassure you. This lift is worked by hydraulic pressure, the principle relied on being that water exerts pressure in proportion to the height of a column rather than in proportion to the diameter. In making use of this characteristic water is admitted into a cylinder, the pressure being regulated by the use of valves and a stable equilibrium being made possible by an ingenious system of counterpoises. I could go further into the minutiae of this particular machine, which of course has its variations from other models," he added as she gasped in astonishment, "but I doubt if you could follow the technical terms whose use an accurate description would necessitate, but I wish to assure you that if, after what I have said, you think you know more about this lift than I do you are at perfect liberty to step in and take its management out of my hands."—Pearson's.

"Yes, but between ourselves what is he at home?"

"Oh, at home! He's a perfect nuisance."—London Answers.

Compulsion.

Little five-year-old Bessie was telling about some medicine she had taken while ill. "Yes," she said, "I took some compulsion of cod liver oil, and"—"You mean 'emulsion,' don't you, dear, not compulsion?" said the visitor. "Well," rejoined Bessie, "there was a good deal of compulsion about it."—Chicago News.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens, in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

Elephant rock. It was in the spring of 1889 that we reached Elephant rock, which is a point on a rock on the south side of Beaver valley, where I found an Indian trail going down the Beaver, and, following it, the command went into camp. The general ordered Lieutenant Ward to follow it, I being already on the scene. I was keeping the Indians in sight while covering my presence from them, when somewhat to the left, almost parallel with them, I heard firing, and I afterward ascertained that Lieutenant Ward was in a skirmish so premature that at one time it threatened to cut me off.

General Carr left the command under Major Brown to follow with the wagons, and the Indians, skirmishing with great daring, put up a game fight. General Carr followed them until nearly dark and returned to meet and protect the wagons. Forming his men in a hollow square, he made an orderly retreat, the Indians showing great pertinacity in their skirmish tactics, so much so that the general got a bullet through the scabbard of his saber. Meeting the wagons and getting into a good position, he went into camp, but the Indians stayed around all night, emitting the cries of owls and coyotes, as usual. Next day the Indians were followed, and skirmishing was kept up incessantly. Lieutenant Schenck on that occasion came near being ambushed and had a few men killed. This continuous skirmishing was kept up for three days, with myself almost continuously in the saddle, and while we were in front the general sounded the officers' call for consultation. I will permit General Carr to tell the story of an affair in which he punished the Indians severely, while the story relates also to my connection with the matter:

"I had heard some firing in front, where the advance guard had gone out of sight. My orders were for the advance guard to regulate on the main column and always keep in sight of it, but as Major Babcock and Lieutenant W. P. Hall, now General Hall, were so ambitious and anxious for a fight I thought I would give them a chance, and so I let them alone. After hasty consultation regarding lack of supplies I sent a bugler to recall the advance guard. He came back saying he could not reach them, as they were surrounded by Indians. The Indians had got into four ravines which headed near the trail, two on each side. The half dozen had led the advance on with insulting gestures and defiant words (some could speak and swear in English), and when they came between the ravines the whole poured out around them. Babcock dismounted his men and formed them in a circle and stood, the Indians off I sent Lieutenant Brady with the next company to open communications, and the Indians, supposing the whole command was coming, went on as before.

"Reaching the scene, we could see the Indians scattering in retreat. A figure with apparently a red cap rose slowly on the hill. For an instant it puzzled me, as it wore a buckskin and had long hair. But on seeing the horse I recognized that it was Cody's Powder Face and saw that it was 'Buffalo Bill' without his broad brimmed sombrero. On closer inspection I saw that his head was swathed in a bloody handkerchief, which served not only as a temporary bandage, but as a chapeau, his hat having been shot off, the bullet plowing his scalp badly for about five inches. It had ridged along the bone and was bleeding profusely, a very close call, but a lucky escape. However, it would not do to turn back immediately after such impudence, so I took to the gallop and ran them for twelve miles to and across the Republican and up the bluffs on the south side, where they acted in their usual aggravating style by scattering in every direction after dropping a good deal of plunder. We could see them on the distant hill, but could not catch them under the circumstances or without means of some counter strategic cunning, so we went back and camped north of the Republican. The advance guard had been relieved and the Indians severely punished, with a loss on our side of but four or five killed and a few wounded, this with Babcock's horse wounded and Cody's narrow escape as the resulting casualties. The object of the campaign was nearly accomplished, but our greatest need was supplies, which the hot trail had sidetracked in the excitement of the necessary pursuit of the defiant foe. As the country was infested with Indians and it was fifty miles to the nearest supply point, Fort Kearny, on consultation with Cody he decided that it would be best to undertake the job himself, a point characteristic of him, as he never shirked duty or faltered in emergencies. I gave him the best horse in the outfit, and when twilight arrived he decided, after patching up his head a little, to bring relief and meet us at a point 'northwest on the Platte river, about a day's march onward.' These were about the most definite directions any scout got in the trackless wastes of those days, and it showed the peculiar sixth sense or acumen possessed by experienced officers and why practical scouts, like Cody, in the wide terrestrial seas of the great plains rarely ever missed connections. Cody therefore reached us safely, making a successful ride of fifty miles during the night and arriving at Fort Kearny at daylight."

Gainesville, Florida.

My first meeting with General George A. Custer was when I was a scout in the department of the Missouri, in the spring of 1867. At this time General Custer's regiment, the Seventh cavalry, United States army, was at Fort Larned, on Pawnee Fork, near the Arkansas river.

One evening the general arrived at Fort Hays from Fort Harker. He had with him only two officers and three orderlies. The general told Captain Owenshine, who was in command of Fort Hays at the time, that he wished to leave Fort Hays the next morning at daylight to join his regiment and wanted a guide who knew the country, one that would make no mistake, well mounted, to guide him to Fort Larned. Captain Owenshine sent for me and told me to be ready sharp at daylight to go with General Custer and that he wanted me to have the best mount there was at the post. At that time the horses at the fort were pretty well run down from many chases after Indians, but I was riding and had at the time as good a long distance horse as I have ever known, and he was a mule. The general himself was riding a Kentucky thoroughbred.

At daylight I rode up to the commanding officer's quarters, and Captain Owenshine introduced me for the first time to General Custer. The general, seeing that I was mounted on a mule, said to Captain Owenshine:

"Captain, I haven't got time to dilly dally along the road with a mule. I see that my guide here is mounted on a mule. I want him to have a horse, and a good one."

I said, "General, this is the best horse at the fort, and I assure you that he won't be much behind you when you reach Fort Larned."

The captain explained to the general that the horses were in pretty bad condition at the fort and that he had heard me brag so much about that mule that he felt quite sure that the best was all right.

The general seemed a little displeased and said, "Well, if that is the best you have I will have to put up with it."

We mounted and started out on the road. For the first fifteen miles to Smoky Hill river there was a good wagon road, and as we rode along the general asked me numerous questions in regard to the country and the Indians, and thus we talked along mile after mile. But the general was going at a pretty rapid gait, and my mule was not very speedy on the start, but I knew he would finish all right. So when the general was not looking I would put the spurs to the mule a little to wake him up. However, I kept alongside of the general until I got to Smoky Hill river. I noticed that the old mule was not panting much, but the horses were.

I told the general that this would be the last water for forty-five miles until we got near Larned; that it would be best to water the horses there, and if the men required any water they had better fill up their canteens, which they did.

From this point we struck into the grand hills, leaving all roads. It was pretty sandy and pretty heavy traveling for horse or mule, but I made up my mind that I would show the general from there on that I had spoken the truth about the mule. So when the general was not looking at me I would put the spurs to him, and as he would lunge ahead I would say:

"Whoa, there! Take it easy, old fellow. Don't get to fretting."

We went on like that for a mile or so. The mule would get ahead of the horses, and whenever the general wasn't looking I would spur him, and as the mule would forge ahead I would pat him to calm him down.

Finally the general remarked, "That is really quite a horse you are riding there."

"Oh, he isn't warmed up yet, general," I said. "He doesn't go good until he gets his second wind."

By this time the mule was really beginning to show his staying qualities over the Kentucky horse that the general was riding, and the general could not keep up. But the general would not give up, and we went on mile after mile through the sand hills until finally I had actually to wait on the general a little. Every once in awhile the general would remark about that mule. But we went on, and the general still would not give in. We continued going until we got within about fifteen miles of Fort Larned. Here we stopped on a hill to wait for the officers and orderlies to overtake us. When they got up I showed the general a depression in the sand hills and told him that that was the Pawnee Fork creek and that all we had to do was to follow the creek down and we would come to the fort.

"Now, general," I said, "if you have any urgent dispatches that you want taken to your commanding officer, if you will give them to me I will take them on and have them delivered to him. You cannot help but find your way."

"Ah," he said, "you are kidding me about what I said in regard to that mule. Well," turning to one of the officers, "you bring the escort in. Follow the direction we are going, and I will go on with Cody."

And we started, I giving him as lively a ride as his horse could stand until we reached the fort. That night the general's horse died. The next morning at guard mount I rode up to the headquarters of Fort Larned, which was commanded by Captain Dalgemeyer, with whom the general was stopping, and reported to him. I said that if he had no further use for me I would return to my own fort and that if he had any dispatches he wanted taken back to Fort Hays I would take them, as I expected to get there in eight hours on the same mule.

He laughed and said, "Well, I will never say anything against a mule again."

Among the many army officers under whom I have served one of my earliest experiences was with Major General Eugene A. Carr, retired. General Carr was a graduate of West Point when cabins were more plentiful than frame houses in upper New York state, whence he came. Graduating in 1850, he went to the frontier and graduated in that old school that made him one of the best of Indian fighters.

In 1863 I first met him when I was a scout for Colonel Royal's command, whom he succeeded. It has been the pride of my career that, being an officer of such wide experience and ability, I secured his esteem and friendship, and in his writings he has been very generous in alluding to my services. I had the honor of serving with him in many trying campaigns, notably in that which culminated in his success over Tall Bull, who had long been the terror of the plains with what is known as the "dog soldiers," who were renegades recruited from a dozen disappointed tribes and were composed of the most vicious, fanatical Indians who were opposed to the white man's intrusion in the west. The depredations were of a terrifying nature, and Carr was delegated to punish them at all hazards. Their continuous pursuit for many months was a very trying one, as they employed the Indians' methods of annoyance in attack by safely scattering when hard pressed. Knowing that only strategic cunning could eventually effect subjugation or dispersal, General Carr proved by his persistent energy and strategy that he was equal to the situation. It was during the continuous pursuit of these warriors that I met one of my closest calls in an incidental fight which occurred at a point called

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

WILBURN—KELLEY.

Pretty Church Wedding at First Baptist Wednesday Morning.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at the First Baptist church when Mr. Hervey Robinson Wilburn was united in holy wedlock to Miss Bessie Kelley, the accomplished young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelley, Rev. S. B. Rogers, formerly pastor of the church, officiating.

The house of worship had been beautifully decorated by friends of the young couple, and was draped in evergreens and moss from the entrances to the altar, the house being darkened to present an evening effect.

Rev. S. B. Rogers entered the church from the rear. The bride came in from the west aisle on the arm of her father, being preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Ida Mae McDonald, while the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. R. Y. Winters, entered from the east door. Miss Bessie Bunch entered from the west aisle and Mr. Forrest Kelley from the east aisle, and all met at the altar. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. T. Denby of Jacksonville, accompanied by Miss Christine Richards on the violin.

The couple met under the large arch and while the Rev. Rogers performed the ceremony a beautiful electrical effect was shown, which was arranged just over the arch bearing the names of "Kelley"—"Wilburn," and during the ceremony the light with the name of "Kelley" was kept burning, while as soon as the word was spoken pronouncing them man and wife it was switched off to "Wilburn." Mr. H. M. Chitty and Mr. J. E. Murray acted as ushers.

The bride was beautifully attired in a traveling suit of champagne Rajah silk, while the groom wore the conventional black. Following the ceremony the happy pair left via the S. A. L. for Jacksonville to sail on the Clyde Line for Charleston. They will visit numerous places of interest before returning to their home in this city.

The groom is one of the head salesmen in the store of the Gainesville Hardware Company, having been a resident of Gainesville for the past two years. He has made a host of admiring friends who wish him much happiness.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelley, and has for a number of years been a resident of this city, identifying herself with the church and its work, and was one of the sweetest of the June brides Gainesville has had for a number of years.

The wedding presents consisted of various articles, and included nearly everything that will be required for the couple to start housekeeping, which shows their popularity with their admiring friends.

W. T. Goore, who has been absent for the past several weeks in Jacksonville, has returned to his home in this city.

D. R. Kline of Palatka arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of looking after his insurance business, which is run on a fraternal order plan.

H. C. Wheeler, State manager of the Home Protective Association of Canton, Ohio, arrived in the city yesterday and will remain for the next few days.

City Marshal Arnow has returned from Palatka, where he was summoned as a witness before the circuit court now in session to try the Kelley-Davidson case.

Dr. Waldo of Jacksonville, brother of Dr. Geo. S. Waldo of this city, returned to his home yesterday after having spent the day here to attend his brother's wedding.

We do not know of any other pill that is as good as DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills—small, gentle, pleasant and sure pills with a reputation. Sold by all druggists.

S. D. Robinson, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Westbrook, of Williston, were in the city yesterday. The two ladies proceeded to Grand Island, where they will visit for the next few weeks.

Miss, Elise Barker, who has been visiting the family of J. F. Bunch for the past ten days, has returned to her home in South Carolina. During her sojourn here she made a number of friends who will be pleased to again welcome her to the city.

TESTIMONY AGAINST KELLEY AND DAVIDSON

Witnesses Give Damaging Testimony---Defendants
Introduce Evidence to Controvert Same.

(By Jesse E. Burtz.)

PALATKA, June 22.—The second day of the Kelley-Davidson murder trial was full of interest today. The State rested at noon, after examining fourteen witnesses.

The defense began its rebuttal evidence at the opening of the afternoon session, two witnesses being examined, when court adjourned until Wednesday morning.

Kelley, one of the defendants, created a mild sensation during the testimony of one of the State's witnesses this morning, when the prisoner rose and said to the witness: "You lie like a dog." Kelley was quickly pulled back into his chair and commanded to keep quiet, when order was restored.

It will probably be the latter part of the week before the case is submitted to the jury.

Monday's Proceedings.

PALATKA, June 22.—The famous case of the State of Florida vs. W. M. Davidson and James Kelley, charged with the murder of Night Watchman W. C. Sellars at the shops of the Atlantic Coast Line in High Springs about three years ago, and for which a change of venue from Alachua to Putnam county was granted, was begun here Monday, being a special term, Judge J. T. Willis, of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, presiding, with State Attorney Rivers, the regular court officials of Putnam county, Clerk S. H. Wienges, Sheriff Perry G. Ramsey, and other court officials of Alachua county in attendance.

The defendants arrived from Gainesville Sunday, and were taken to the Putnam county jail, where they remained until this morning, being brought into court a few moments prior to the opening of the tribunal at 9:30 o'clock. The prisoners seemed cheerful, and were refreshed after a good night's rest.

The court was called to order promptly at 9:30. The little court room proved inadequate to accommodate the throng of witnesses, spectators, etc., who had gathered from almost every section of this State and Georgia, many of the witnesses for the prosecution being summoned from the latter State. There are twenty witnesses for the State, and twenty-five for the defense, all of whom with two or three exceptions responded to their names as the roll was called.

This case is one of State-wide reputation, and probably the most important murder case which has transpired in Alachua county for many years. There is arrayed on both sides some of the best legal talent in the State. State Attorney J. M. Rivers is assisted by Col. Thos. Palmer of Tampa, and Col. J. N. Blackwell of this city, while the defendants have employed as counsel Judge Syd L. Carter of Gainesville, Judge Robt. W. Davis of Tampa, Col. J. N. Stripling of Jacksonville and Col. E. Noble Calhoun of Palatka.

Upon the opening of the court Clerk Henry Hutchinson called the roll of the regular and special venire, comprising sixty-two tallies from the body of the county. The regular venire was first called. Jurors I. C. Canova, Chas. Burt and John Motes, however, were excused by request and the clerk was instructed to issue a venire of three from the body of the county to complete the regular panel. Those summoned were J. B. Minton, W. H. Canova and T. E. Hudson, which completed the panel, and this panel was accepted by the State and tendered.

J. B. Minton was excused by the defense, when Sheriff R. Lee Kennerly was instructed to call the first twenty from the special venire. On this list J. A. Frederick, A. J. Padgett, G. W. Keilum, W. A. Walton and T. J. Barnett were excused for various reasons, when the remainder of the special venire were called, and A. L. Baughman was excused by request. W. H. Minton was then called to complete the regular panel, and was qualified, again making a full panel.

George Weatherby was excused by the State, and Leo Jacobson was called, but challenged by the State. J. C. McCoy was then called, and also peremptorily challenged by the State, when Louis Kalbfeld took his place in the box. He was qualified, which again completed the panel, but Julius P. Neubeck was challenged by the defense, and P. J. Becks was called. Mr. Becks, after a rigid examination, qualified, which completed the panel satisfactory to both sides.

Upon completion of the panel the special veniremen were excused from further attendance upon the court.

The jury as empanelled is said to be as an aggregation one of the best, most intelligent and most conservative which ever filled a jury box in this county. They are men of high standing and integrity, and are as follows:

Thomas Murray, dealer in meats; I. H. Griffin, hardware dealer; M. M. Vickers, journalist; John D. Points, plumber; James A. Bair, nurseryman; A. M. Haughton, merchant; T. R. Livingston, baker; T. E. Hudson, mechanic; W. H. Cannon, farmer; W. H. Minton, merchant; Louis Kalbfeld, hotel proprietor; P. J. Becks, contractor.

After the jury had been duly sworn, the defendants were commanded to rise, when the indictment was read. Having been previously arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty, this formality was dispensed with.

The roll of witnesses for the State and defense was called, the witnesses placed under the rule, W. R. Johnson was sworn in as bailiff to take charge of the jury, and court adjourned at 11:40 until 2 o'clock p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Court convened at 2 o'clock p. m. All officers in their respective places.

The first witness called was J. M. Smith. Resides in Waycross, Ga., but resided in High Springs in August, 1906. Knows both defendants, also knew W. C. Sellars. Was present when Sellars was shot in High Springs; was standing within few feet of Sellars when he was shot; was equally near Davidson. Witness saw Davidson and Sellars early the night of the killing. Sellars was night watchman at the A. C. L. shops. Witness stated that at the time of the killing both he and Sellars were armed, Sellars carrying a Winchester which witness had loaned him. He and Sellars were seated on steps of freight depot when he observed two men approaching. Larger man looked to be about 6 feet tall, heavy built. He identified this man as Kelley. Witness stated it was then that he and Sellars went into the depot and were examining their guns when Sellars called his attention to two men at a window. He saw them as they disappeared; one of them had something which appeared to be a gun.

Witness stated that he and Sellars then went to Davidson's restaurant and called him (Davidson). Davidson responded, and the trio walked back to the station platform. He told Davidson about the strange movements of two men about the place. Davidson suggested that probably someone was trying to rob the depot, and suggested that he (witness) and Sellars go into the office and try to catch them. About that time Davidson raised his hand, when two guns were fired, and Sellars fell, with six buckshot wounds in his side. Witness recognized one of the men as the one described already, the other a small man, wearing a beard. After the shooting at the depot two more shots were fired, which appeared to come from the direction of Davidson's restaurant. The two men ran in a northerly direction after the first two shots were fired.

Witness stated that there had been breaking and stealing from the cars of the railroad at High Springs.

On cross-examination witness stated that he remained in High Springs about one month after Sellars' death and that he was a witness before the coroner's jury; was employed at the time by the Southern Weighing and Inspecting Bureau and the Coast Line jointly; understood that rewards were offered for the arrest and conviction of guilty party or parties, and had been active in an endeavor to secure information. Witness stated he would not swear the large man he saw was Kelley, but that he resembled Kelley as to size, movements, etc.

Witness was asked if his testimony before the coroner's jury was taken down in writing, to which he replied that it was.

"Where is that testimony now?" asked Attorney Stripling.

"I do not know," was the reply.

"Did you not take the copy of this testimony out of the vault in the court house in Gainesville?"

"I did not."

"Do you know whether anyone else did take that copy or not?"

"I do not; I am unable to tell where the copy is, for I do not know."

"Did you testify in the habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Willis?"

"I did."

"Did the man who stood between the cars have a gun?"

"Not that I know of. He was standing behind a flat car, and I could see only from his waist up."

Witness stated that he left High Springs because he was afraid of the "mob" there.

Witness described position of himself, Davidson and Sellars at the time of the shooting, using himself and Attorneys Rivers and Palmer as the objects.

J. H. Felds was next sworn. Resides in Sanford; was in High Springs on night Sellars was killed, in August 1906; was yard foreman for the railroad, and Kelley held a similar position in the High Springs yards at that time. Kelley was out of town in the early evening, and he was "subbing" for him, but Kelley relieved him after supper.

Witness stated that when he was relieved he and Peter Burkhardt met Davidson, when Davidson called their attention to a man, saying: "See that man?" (referring to Sellars). He is from Tampa. He is a dirty ——— and has come up here to do some dirty work. If he don't get out of town tonight we'll fix him; we'll take him down to the river on the switch engine and dump him overboard." Witness then started to Davidson's home where he boarded. As he went down the railroad towards home he observed a man lurking near a box car. This man appeared to be attired in a rain coat, black felt hat, and his face was partly covered by a black cloth. The man wore a long beard. A few yards further up the track he met two more men, but proceeded on his way. One of these men was about 5 feet tall, the other rather small.

Upon reaching the gate at his boarding-house, witness heard two shots in rapid succession, and shortly afterward many shots were fired. Witness then returned to the point where Sellars was shot, where he found a number of people, and he joined a party with Kelley, Davidson and others to search for the party who did the shooting. He left the party in a few moments, returned to Sellars, remained

SUMMER NORMAL WILL OPEN ON NEXT MONDAY

Indications Are That the Term Will Be Largely Attended by Teachers Generally.

The Summer Normal opens in this city on Monday, and judging from the large number of letters and inquiries now being received it will be well attended.

At the last session of the Legislature no appropriation was made for defraying part of the expense of railroad fare to the teachers, and this, it was thought, would interfere with the attendance to some extent, but this doubt has already been removed.

The sessions for this term will be held in the High School auditorium, and being located right in the city will be more accessible.

Furthermore, the carpenters and painters now have everything torn up and scattered so much at the University building that it would be impossible to hold the sessions at that place.

A strong faculty has been secured to instruct the school for this term and the interest that is usually manifested in this work will bring much good results. The faculty:

A. A. Murphree, President University of Florida, principal; psychology, pedagogy.

W. L. Floyd, Professor of Science, University of Florida; botany, zoology, physics.

Tom F. McBeath, Professor Pedagogy, Industrial Institute and College, Columbus, Miss.; arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry.

I. I. Himes, Principal Palatka High School; rhetoric, English grammar, Florida history, political geography.

P. W. Corr, Principal South Florida Normal Institute; English literature, orthography, reading, composition.

H. A. Ferrell, Principal Apalachicola High School; general history, physical geography, U. S. history, civil government.

W. H. Russell, Principal Jasper Normal Institute; Latin, plane geometry, solid geometry.

R. M. Evans, Principal Osceola High School; U. S. history, botany, physical geography, Florida history.

Miss Jessie Morrell, Principal of the Primary Department of the St. Petersburg High School; primary methods, drawing.

there for a while, and then went home. At a late hour he saw a man enter the Davidson home, where he (the witness) lodged. The man had a gun. He resembled very much a man who stayed around Davidson's restaurant a great deal by the name of Shields.

Upon cross-examination, witness stated that he did not testify before the coroner's jury or at the habeas corpus proceedings, but was summoned as a witness before the grand jury.

Witness did not see Kelley from the time he relieved him (witness) at 9:30, until after Sellars was shot, which was after 11 o'clock.

Witness repeated the conversation between Davidson, Burkhardt and himself regarding Sellars on the night of the killing, to which he nor Burkhardt made no reply, but turned and walked away.

"Why did you not go to Sellars and warn him of the danger?"

"Because it was none of my business," replied the witness.

"Why did you not go before the coroner's jury and tell what you knew?"

"Because it was none of my business; I was not summoned and was afraid to tell what I knew."

Cleve Roland was working for Davidson in August, 1906. On the night Sellars was shot Davidson sent witness to his (Davidson's) home for a gun and two shells. He brought the gun and shells and placed them in the restaurant. This was about three hours before Sellars was shot.

On cross-examination, witness stated that Davidson told him someone was stealing feed from his (Davidson's) wood camp, and that he wanted to catch them. The gun remained where witness had placed it until after the shooting, as far as he knew.

S. B. Davis, Jr., lived in High Springs in 1906, the night Sellars was killed; went with Cleve Roland to Davidson's house on that night for the gun and shells; witness examined shells and they were marked "buck shot." Witness left Roland near the restaurant, with the gun and shells.

Peter Burkhardt lived in High Springs in August, 1906. Was night yardmaster for the Atlantic Coast Line. Knew both defendants, also Sellars. Saw Davidson about 7:30 o'clock on night of August 6, also saw Sellars in Davidson's restaurant. Davidson, referring to Sellars, said: "You see that fellow? He is a detective from Tampa, and he came here to break up this whiskey stealing, and if he don't leave here we'll fix him." Sellars came out of the restaurant and went away towards the freight house. In the meantime Kelley came up, remarking, "Where is the ———," to which Davidson replied that he had gone to the freight house. Kelley then said, "Where is your gun?" and Davidson told him (Kelley) that it was in the restaurant.

Witness then went into the telegraph office, where he remained until the shot which killed Sellars was fired. Witness stated that prior to the shooting he also saw two men pass the depot, whom he recognized as a man by the name of McIlvaine and a man by the name of Seals. Seals wore a rain coat and a false beard, but McIlvaine was dressed ordinarily. After the shooting he saw the two men again, but Seals had discarded his rain coat and false beard, and both were in their shirt sleeves.

Witness stated that he had talked with Davidson about the case in April, 1907, in High Springs. At that time he told Davidson that Officer Roberts was working up a case, and if he (Davidson) did not look out they would "get him," to which he replied

DR. RANDOLPH HERE.

Came to Examine R. L. Owens in County Jail.

Dr. Jas. P. Randolph, one of the physicians in charge of the asylum for the insane at Chattahoochee, was in the city part of Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of making a thorough examination of R. L. Owens, the condemned white man now confined in the county jail.

He was sent here by Governor Gilchrist, who was acting upon a lengthy petition filed with him only a few days since, and which bore the names of a large number of the jury that found him guilty.

This petition stated that they believed now that the man was mentally unbalanced, and it was to thoroughly satisfy himself that the Governor had the physician from the asylum come and make the examination.

One of the gentlemen who was present stated that it was the most thorough he had ever witnessed in his life, but the physician was noncommittal on just what his recommendations to the Governor would be.

OAK HALLS TAKE THE FIRST GAME OF SERIES

SPOTTSWOOD'S RUNNING CATCH WAS WHAT SAVED THEM.

Change of Positions Today Will Strengthen Both Teams, and Real Good Game Is Expected.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Monday's game of ball between the Cordele and Oak Hall clubs was rather a poor game, but taking into consideration that this was their first time together on the field, we will have to allow for their errors and bad playing, for not only did the home men seem a little off, but they had company with the visitors.

A very pretty play was by Spottswood in deep center, who made a great sprint and pulled one down with his left hand that certainly looked as if it was good for three bases. This was the real feature of the game.

Both team were credited with some costly bobbles, but they showed up pretty evenly matched. Today's game will be a better exhibition, as the visitors will use their star hurler, who they claim is big league timber. The Georgians are a good set of ball players and no doubt will take the big end of the score today.

The locals started the run-getting right on the jump. Miller walked, Graham bunted and was out at first, Miller advancing to second and a moment later swiped third; "Foxy" Bullock walked; Watson fouled out, Bullock going to second; Hendricks singled to center scoring Miller and Bullock; Denton out, second to first.

The Georgians gave the locals a scare in the first, but nothing resulted. Vibbert fanned; Cawley hit through pitcher's box, and stole second; Brown struck out; Bruce hit a hot one to Watson, which went to Hendricks at second; Cawley, in attempting to reach home, cut third and was called out by the umpire.

The Oak Halls scored again in the sixth inning when Hendricks got hit and took his base, and stole second, a moment later taking third on a fumble by catcher. Denton hit a hot one to short, who couldn't handle it, and Hendricks scored.

In this inning the Cordele boys livened up a little and managed to tie the score. Vibbert fanned; Cawley safe on long fly to Denton, stole second, and came home while Watson was trying to throw Bruce out on a slow grounder down third-base line, but got the ball to Bullock too late to catch the runner. Bruce took second when Bullock tried to nail Cawley at home; Hudson singled to right field, scoring Bruce, and taking second on the throw to the plate, and reached third on a passed ball. Tillman sent a hot one to third, who fumbled, allowing Hudson to score and Tillman to land safely at first. Bowen singled to center, and both runners advanced on a wild pitch by Watson; Hines ended the winning by going out to Hendricks at second.

The Oaks were not long in forging ahead, and in the next inning came back and sent one man around the circuit. Jack Spottswood singled down first-base line, and while the Georgians were sleeping took second. Lawson struck out, but catcher dropped the ball, and on the throw to first Spottswood took third. Cawthon singled to center, scoring Spottswood. Cawthon stole second; Miller skied out to right; Graham out, pitcher to first. This ended the run-getting for both sides, and Wattle settled down and had the kibosh on the visitors during the remainder of the game.

Godwin, Bowen and Bruce did good work for the visitors, while Jack Spottswood's all-around work and Hendricks' fielding and base-running were the features of the Oak Halls. Miller was the heavy man with the willow.

Score by innings:

Oak Halls 2 0 0 0 1 1 0 0—4 5 4
Cordele... 0 0 0 0 0 3 0 0—3 8 2

Base on balls—Watson, 1; Hines, 2.
Wild pitches—Watson 2.

Two-base hits—Miller.

Struck out—By Hines 6, Watson 6.

Hit by pitcher—Bowen.

Umpire Graham.

TUESDAY'S GAME.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

Tuesday's ball game was somewhat better than the exhibition of Monday, and the shut out by the home boys was what should have been done on the day preceding. Although both sides made errors, none of them were costly to the teams.

The crowd yesterday was nothing in comparison with what it should have been, and the article of ball the boys are handing us should be encouraged from every standpoint. A large attendance and plenty of "rooting" is just what Manager Davis says he wants, and must have, to make the club the success we all want it to be. All players have their off-day, but we want to encourage the bunch, for they will soon be meeting real fast company in the South Florida teams, and judging from the games being made the latter are playing good ball.

The Cordele team put up a good game of ball yesterday but luck was against them, and while at times it looked rather squally for the home boys the visitors failed to get anything to their credit. Their hitting was

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. — "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured." — MRS. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon Street, Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

bled, allowing Hudson to score and Tillman to land safely at first. Bowen singled to center, and both runners advanced on a wild pitch by Watson; Hines ended the winning by going out to Hendricks at second.

The Oaks were not long in forging ahead, and in the next inning came back and sent one man around the circuit. Jack Spottswood singled down first-base line, and while the Georgians were sleeping took second. Lawson struck out, but catcher dropped the ball, and on the throw to first Spottswood took third. Cawthon singled to center, scoring Spottswood. Cawthon stole second; Miller skied out to right; Graham out, pitcher to first. This ended the run-getting for both sides, and Wattle settled down and had the kibosh on the visitors during the remainder of the game.

Godwin, Bowen and Bruce did good work for the visitors, while Jack Spottswood's all-around work and Hendricks' fielding and base-running were the features of the Oak Halls. Miller was the heavy man with the willow.

Score by innings:

TUESDAY'S GAME.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

Tuesday's ball game was somewhat better than the exhibition of Monday, and the shut out by the home boys was what should have been done on the day preceding. Although both sides made errors, none of them were costly to the teams.

The crowd yesterday was nothing in comparison with what it should have been, and the article of ball the boys are handing us should be encouraged from every standpoint. A large attendance and plenty of "rooting" is just what Manager Davis says he wants, and must have, to make the club the success we all want it to be. All players have their off-day, but we want to encourage the bunch, for they will soon be meeting real fast company in the South Florida teams, and judging from the games being made the latter are playing good ball.

The Cordele team put up a good game of ball yesterday but luck was against them, and while at times it looked rather squally for the home boys the visitors failed to get anything to their credit. Their hitting was

NEGRO KILLED NEAR KANAPAH MONDAY

FELL FROM MOVING LOG TRAIN AND CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Lived Only About One Hour After the Accident, and Was Unconscious During Time.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

William Banks, a negro workman employed at the sawmill plant of T. J. Sweeting at Kanapah, was suddenly killed Monday morning by falling from the moving log train.

The negro was connected with the logging crew, which had loaded the first train, and on the way to the mill he became unbalanced in some manner and fell from the trucks between the wheels, the train passing over him before it could be stopped, and mangled him in such a manner that he died about one hour after the accident.

This is the first accident at or near the mill since the new one has been installed, and it is deeply regretted by the management, although no blame can be attached to any of the crew of the train, for Banks was not in the position he should have been when he fell from the cars.

Dr. Carter was summoned from this city and arrived shortly after the negro had expired. His remains will be buried near the mill.

good, having secured seven hits to the Oak Halls' five.

Tillman's work for the visitors was good, he having struck out nine men, while Spottswood only has five to his credit.

The Oak Halls started their run-getting in the first half of the second. Watson was up first, and whiffed; Hendricks got his and went to first; Denton fanned; Hendricks stole second; Spottswood hit a beauty to center, bringing in Hendricks, and himself going to second. Hartsfield got caught going to first on a hot grounder to second, and retired the side. One run.

Nothing more was doing in the line or runs until they reached the sixth inning, the Oak Halls again sending four men across the home plate—Graham, Watson, Hendricks and Denton.

The score by innings:

R. H. E.
Cordele... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 7 5

Base on balls—Tillman 2.

Wild pitches—Tillman 2, Spottswood 1.

Two-base hits—Watson 1.

Struck out—Spottswood 5, Tillman 9.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials. Address,

JONAS MALPHURS GETS GAY OVER AT ROCHELLE

FINED PISTOL IN RECKLESS MAN NER FROM CAR.

Justice Carlisle Fines Him $25 and Costs or Three Months Imprisonment in the County Jail.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Jonas Malphurs, a young white boy of this city, became too gay on last Saturday afternoon at Rochelle, with the result that he is now in trouble. Jonas, in company with another young man, visited Rochelle and wanted to "take the town" on last Saturday evening. They were sufficiently tanked with bad booze to believe that they were "the whole thing," when Deputy Sheriff Zetrouer appeared upon the scene and placed Malphurs under arrest, the other party making his escape.

The first appearance of the trouble was when Malphurs wanted to "kill him a negro" in front of the postoffice, but on the advice of his friend he was persuaded to put up his gun and leave the place. He next got into an empty A. C. L. passenger coach and fired his pistol five times in the direction of a residence, hitting the house once, an oak tree twice, the other shots going wild.

As soon as Malphurs had sufficiently sobered up to be questioned, Justice Roberts asked him about the matter, and he of course remembered nothing of the occurrence, but at Malphurs' solicitation Justice Roberts ordered his case transferred from Rochelle to Gainesville before Justice Carlisle.

Judge Carlisle was as light as he could be under the circumstances and fined him $25 and costs or three months in the county gang at hard labor.

WORK COMMENCES.

President King Arrives Monday Morning from Charlottesville.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Work has again been resumed on the Government building, and President King, of the King Lumber Company, states that under the arrangements he has now made he will not again be delayed in the matter of material, for it will arrive regularly and keep ahead of the workmen.

There are now three cars in transit, and he will have a derrick placed on the line of one of the railroads for the purpose of unloading this heavy material.

A force of hands were again put to work yesterday, and from this time on experienced and skilled labor will be employed and very little common labor used.

Men Past Fifty in Danger.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint." ### Mr. Mooty Has Accident.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

W. P. Mooty, pressman of the Pepper Company, had the misfortune on Monday to get his leg in the press while it was being backed up, and as a result he will be disabled for the next few days. He was in the act of putting on a tympan when his foot touched the back-up of the press, and the machine caught his foot, tearing out a large piece of flesh from the calf of his leg.

Vagaries of a Cold.

You can never be quite sure where a cold is going to hit you. In the fall and winter it may settle in the bowels, producing severe pain. In the summer it may give you colic with diarrhoea or summer complaint. Do not be alarmed nor torment yourself with fears of appendicitis or inflammation of the bowels. At the first sign of the pain or cramp take Perry Davis' Painkiller in warm, sweetened water and relief will come at once. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. It is now put up in a large 35c size as well as the regular 50c size.

A BLUNDERING THIEF GETS $350, LOSES $700

On Wednesday night of this week R. E. Patrick, a melon dealer, and one Walker Reed, who were acquaintances, slept in the same room at the Magnolia Hotel in Leesburg. Patrick went to bed with a purse containing $350 under his pillow, but when he got up Thursday morning the purse and Reed were both gone. As Reed had not left town Patrick proceeded to have him arrested. When Marshal Torian brought him before Judge Ivey, Reed vigorously denied the theft, but said that rather than have trouble about the matter he would pay Patrick $250 in money and give him a diamond ring worth $100. Patrick cheerfully accepted the offer, and the charge was dismissed. But the end was not yet. Jasper Cureton, whose eyes are always open, carried the Seaboard mail, and on Thursday morning just at daylight, as he went to the depot by a short route, he saw a well-dressed young man in the bushes north of town scratching in the sand. He recognized him as being Walker Reed. A few hours later he reported the matter to Mr. Torian. After the compromise between Patrick and Reed had been made, Torian, Patrick, Cureton and perhaps one or two others, walked down to the spot where Cureton had seen Reed so early in the morning. There they soon found Patrick's fat purse buried in the soil. It still contained every cent of the $350. Patrick put the purse and its contents in his pocket and turned over to Torian the $250 and the ring which Reed had given him. Torian now being fully convinced that Reed stole the money, set out to have him arrested again in order that the claim of the State might be satisfied, but Reed got information of this fact through a friend and left town without ceremony. Hereafter when Reed buries money in the bushes he had better look out that the eyes of Jasper Cureton are not on him. Torian holds the money and the ring, and is waiting for Reed's return in order to make a final settlement between him and the State.—Leesburg Commercial.

Dr. W. H. Powers III.

From Wednesday's Daily:

Col. F. E. Harris, editor of The Ocala Daily Banner, passed through the city yesterday en route to South Carolina. He will be absent there for the next few days on account of the serious illness of his son-in-law, Dr. W. H. Powers, who went there some time since in the hopes that the change would prove beneficial.

Archer Is Growing.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

A. D. Chamblin, justice of the peace for the Archer district, was a visitor to the city yesterday. He is also the enterprising druggist of that place and states that the city is now on the move, much improvement being noticeable among the residence section.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

BARER—JOHNSON.

Popular Young People of the East End United in Holy Wedlock.

CAMPVILLE, June 21.—There was a beautiful wedding ceremony five miles below this place, in the Methodist church in Hawthorn, on June 21st, between Mr. Robert Baker and Miss Mildred Johnson that excels any social event that has occurred in this part of the county. The many friends in the surrounding country as well as those from distant parts of the State were there to offer congratulations and to witness their departure on the Coast Line train for St. Augustine and other points of interest. A spirit of fun and jollity seemed to pervade the throng and they were sent off amidst a copious shower of rice and well wishes of their friends.

The groom is a young man of integrity and sterling worth, and no stronger evidence of the popularity of the bride can be had than to view with amazement and pleasure the beautiful and costly array of bridal presents from near-by friends and those of other parts of the State, as well as from abroad. Being possessed of the happy faculty of winning friends, the bride, though but 17 years of age, is widely known and highly esteemed by her numerous friends. Thus it is that this young couple are started out in life under auspicious prospects, and may nothing dim the luster of their joy nor obscure the sunlight of their happiness.

Poor Milk

Is often thought to be responsible for an infant's loss in weight or general poor health. The cause usually is that the child has worms. They get the nourishment of the food and the baby starves, actually starves. White's Cream Vermifuge expels the worms and nourishes the child, sure and safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. J. Johnson.

A Bad Hand.

From Wednesday's Daily:

H. Chesser, one of the men employed at the veneering plant of Kelley & Sons at Prairie Creek, was in the city yesterday, having come for the purpose of having his hand dressed and otherwise cared for. While feeding one of the machines there a board was thrown against his fore-knuckle, but no attention was paid to the wound until yesterday, when the entire hand had swollen to about three times its size, when he at once consulted medical aid.

A SQUARE DEAL AND A SQUARE MEAL

Here's a square deal for the people who can't eat a square meal without after pain and distress.

Go to J. W. McCollum & Co's. today and get a box of Mi-o-na tablets: the great prescription for indigestion and stomach troubles.

Take one, or if your suffering is intense, two tablets with or after meals and at the end of 10 days if you can't eat a square meal without distress go to J. W. McCollum & Co's. and get your money back.

That's where the square deal comes in.

But Mi-o-na is really a stomach up-builder of great merit; every day the makers receive more than a dozen letters from grateful people which state that after they had lost all hope Mi-o-na cured.

The quick and positive action of Mi-o-na on the stomach in case of gas, water-brash, sour stomach and heartburn is worth a lot of money to any sufferer.

Why not try Mi-o-na at J. W. McCollum & Co's. risk. Fifty cents buys a large box.

E. D. Howe, Gardner, Mass., says: "I suffered from severe pains in my stomach. I tried different remedies without relief; after using two boxes of Mi-o-na I found myself completely cured."

Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

TWO MORE MINES CLOSE.

Central Phosphate Close Operations on Account of Price.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Two more of the phosphate mines in the mining section of Western Alachua have been closed down on account of the low prices now being obtained for the rock in the markets.

The Central Phosphate Company, one of the larger companies operating in that section, have decided upon this move after operating during the dull season for the past year or more.

This leaves only a very few others of the mines now being run, such as Dutton, Cummer, Williams and a very few others of the independent companies.

Cricket Frewitt, editor of The Waldo News, bids fair to become one of the best baseball pitchers in the South. If he continues to make good in this line as he has during the past two seasons his services will soon be sought by one of the regular league teams.

The Florida State Fair will be held at Tampa next year as usual, notwithstanding that the Legislature made no appropriation to assist the enterprise. Properly conducted, there is no reason why the next fair should not be a grand success as a private enterprise.

The Illinois Legislature has enacted a law making null and void all leases of flats which contain clauses prohibiting babies on the premises. If Governor Deneen signs the law the youngsters can cry all night if they want to, and no orders to move may legally come from the boss of the flat next morning.

The tonnage of merchandise which passed through Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1907 reached the unparalleled total of 161,194,167. Its industries represent an aggregate investment of $668,000,000; its annual yield of commercial products is estimated at $575,000,000, and its 281,000 workmen receive yearly wages of $365,000,000. It is inconceivable that Mr. Frick, or anyone else, ever made a pessimistic prediction for Pittsburgh.

Capt. D. W. Budd, who resided in Gainesville some years ago but who is now making his home at St. Petersburg, is the champion tarpon fisherman of the Gulf Coast. He has landed seven of the Silver Kings since May 16, five of which were caught on May 31. Mrs. Budd also has a record of two tarpon this season, making a total of nine caught by the Captain and his wife since the season opened, the total weight of which is 605 pounds, or an average of 67 1/3 pounds each. The largest of the nine weighed 85 pounds, while the smallest tipped the scales at 57 pounds.

FUTURE FOOD SUPPLIES.

Questions of food supplies are world-wide themes of public discussion. The struggle for existence under increasing population is not solely political, but primarily economic. The farmer's case is the core of public opinion has to be heard at length about once every ten years. He has not had his innings, however, says The Wall Street Journal, since the populist agitation of more than a decade ago.

Meanwhile the question, thanks to the betterment of farm prices, has shifted twice at least. Late in the nineties the food supply question became one of commercial distribution. The reports of the Industrial Commission on this subject were the answer which official inquiry made to the problem then raised. Since then the third shift has taken place and the question is now squarely before the consumer.

Put in its more scientific form, in which the agriculturist of technical familiarity with this industry sees it, Professor Davenport, of the University of Illinois, in a recent address, explained the situation as follows:

"Any way you can figure it, we are near the end of cheap food in this country, which means that the population is beginning to overtake the food supply. We can increase production yet many fold by means of better methods, more intensive practice and the reclamation of undeveloped areas, but the best land has been developed, its fertility has been more or less depleted and some of it has already been abandoned."

This view is so widely accepted among men best qualified to speak that it is hardly wise for the layman to question its accuracy. The best that can be said is possibly that the perspective which the view assumes is so extended that it need occasion no alarm. A hundred years is far away, so far that three generations or more must come and go. Furthermore, the old pioneer type of farming, which skins the soil, is passing away with the people who had little labor and small capital to work over-abundant lands. Much of the abandonment of land has been due to the high cost of capital, thus abridging the employment of machinery.

Furthermore, rural investment has not found farm prices, except in recent years, advancing with the cost of capital, labor and other elements of expense. Meanwhile the yield for such a crop as wheat has been fairly constant. The figures below show that for the decade ending with 1898 the average price of wheat was 68.58 cents a bushel and for that ending with 1907 it was 53.65 cents. Meanwhile the yield in one decade has improved little over that of the other:

	Average Yield.	Average Farm Price
1889-1898	13.21	68.58

Wheat may be taken as an index of other farm values. If the increase in the population of the world wants more bread, more meat, more milk and provisions, it will have to pay a price sufficient to induce people to maintain something of a city standard of living on farms of the country, or go elsewhere to get the things they want. Professor Davenport's conclusion accords with the inevitable and the rest of the world must foot the bill.

A subscriber requests The Sun to publish the law passed by the last Legislature relating to the shipment of fresh water fish from Alachua county. We have no copy of this law, but it simply makes it a misdemeanor to ship beyond the limits of this county any fish (except catfish) caught in any of the fresh water lakes, streams or ponds of the county. The law also prohibits transportation companies from receiving for shipment beyond the limits of the county any such fish. The act does not take effect until July 16, 1909, the same having been approved May 17, 1909.

WAS BOUND OVER.

Boyle George, the negro charged with assault with intent to kill Ed Lollar last week, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Carlisle on Wednesday and bound over in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of court.

It will be remembered that George pulled his pistol and began shooting right into a crowd of negroes who were alighting from a train on the Seaboard at Arredondo.

Another case before Justice Carlisle was that of Sam Cook vs. Shad Sama, distress for rent. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $25 and costs.

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS.

There are three sides to every dispute—the inside and the outside and the wrong side, says Herbert Kaufman. Make sure you are the right side when you pass judgment. But before you bother about the matter at all figure out whether it's any affair of yours to give an opinion. Chances are that you are a meddling, meddling, interfering butter-in—a self-constituted, unsummoned jury of one.

See to it when you chase the chickens out of your neighbor's garden that you, yourself, don't create more havoc by trampling down the flowers. Mind your own business. If you have one, it needs all the attention you can give it. If you find that you have any attention to spare, you need a new sort of business.

Lending advice is like lending money—it destroys every other friendship. A still tongue is a multitude of virtues.

Get out of the habit of making other people's beds. Keeping your own comfortable in a crowded life-task. The man who shoots off his mouth and kills a good name deserves as much punishment as that other type of prize idiot, who shoots off a gun without nothing where it's pointed. The fact that neither one knows "it is loaded" doesn't heal the hurt. "See, hear and speak no evil," is one of the first lessons implanted in the mind of a Japanese child.

Negro Woman in Jail for Murdering Her Husband

Betsy Shannon, a negress of Alachua, has been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hague and brought here on the charge of having killed her husband at that place on the night of March 28th.

The coroner's jury, which was in session part of two days, used every effort at that time to try and find out the guilty party or parties of the foul murder, but nothing transpired that would give them any clue as to the guilty ones, and they adjourned, rendering a verdict accordingly.

Deputies Hague and Marclonny have been quietly working on the case for the past few weeks, and during last week unearthed sufficient evidence, they believe, to convict the woman upon the charge of killing her husband, and the young boys as accessories.

It will be remembered that this old negro man was called to his door one Sunday evening, about 8 o'clock, and shot from ambush, and the supposed guilty ones fled. The murdered negro was a peaceable, quiet citizen, who attended to his own affairs and no cause could be assigned for such an act at that time.

Deputy Sheriff Hague believes he has secured all the evidence that will be needed for the conviction of the parties, but is still working upon the case, which he says will also implicate some of the other negroes of the place.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The proposed amendment to the constitution of Florida, recently adopted by both houses of the Legislature for submission to the voters in the fall of 1910, providing for State-wide prohibition, reads as follows:

Article 1, Sec. 1. The manufacture and sale, barter or exchange of all intoxicating liquors and beverages, whether spirituous, vinous or malt, are hereby forever prohibited in the State of Florida, except alcohol for medicinal purposes; the sale for the purpose aforesaid shall be regulated by law.

Sec. 2. The Legislature shall enact suitable laws for the enforcement of the provisions of this article.

Sec. 3. This article shall go into effect on the first day of July, A. D. 1911.

This amendment will be voted on in November, 1910, and in case of its rejection the present local option law will still prevail. If it carries, all places where liquor is handled must close July 1, 1911.

Special or local laws providing punishment for crime are claimed to be unconstitutional. This discovery will render invalid nearly all the special game and fish laws passed prior to the last session of the Legislature. Many of the relief bills providing for the payment of money out of the State treasury, heretofore passed, were also void for the reason that they did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote of all the members elected to both branches of the Legislature. But in the latter case there is no remedy for the State, as the money has already been paid out. The Constitution is now such a mess of patch-work that it takes a shrewd lawyer to tell just what it means in many instances. A new Constitution is needed more than anything else in Florida.

Negroes Doubleteam.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

Information was received here on Tuesday of a general mix-up between a number of the negro population near Bland on last Saturday evening. From what the letter states it seems that one William Washington had put up some cash for another negro, and he was to have worked it out with him, but instead had jumped his job. When approached and reprimanded for his conduct, a number of outsiders stepped in and with the assistance of this negro nearly beat Washington to death. The letter also states that while no guns were used they were held over Washington until they got through with the whipping.

TESTIMONY AGAINST KELLEY AND DAVIDSON

that if Kelley would keep his mouth shut everything would come out all right. Witness stated that Davidson offered to pay his way to Savannah to talk with Kelley.

On cross-examination witness stated he had never talked with any special agents of the Atlantic Coast Line regarding testimony he was to give in this case. He was a witness before the coroner's jury and the grand jury.

The defense was unsuccessful in inducing the witness to state that he had lost his position with the railroad at one time because he refused to testify against Davidson, but witness admitted that he did tell W. M. Davidson, after he had left High Springs and the employ of the A. C. L., and was working for the Seaboard in Jacksonville, that he met Special Agent Bryan; that Bryan told him (witness) he was glad he left High Springs, as he might give some valuable information in the case, to which witness replied to Bryan that he did not know anything about it.

Court adjourned until 8:30 a. m. Tuesday.

TUESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

PALATKA, June 23.—The second day of the special term of the circuit court of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, at which is being tried the case of the State vs. James Kelley and D. M. Davidson, charged with the murder of W. C. Sellars, night watchman of the Atlantic Coast Line shops at High Springs, in August, 1906, was called to order at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Judge J. T. Wills presiding.

Peter Burkhart, a State witness who was on the stand at the hour of adjournment Monday, was recalled, and was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by the defense.

J. M. Smith, the first witness in the trial, was recalled by the defense, and was questioned regarding the description of the two men whom he recognized coming down the rock road just prior to the killing of Sellars. Witness stated that he described the men before the coroner's jury. Asked by the State why he did not testify before the coroner's jury that the men he saw resembled Kelley and McIlvaine, Davidson's meat cutter, witness replied that he was "one against many," and that he was afraid he would be shot. He declared he had at one time prior to the shooting of Sellars been shot at in High Springs. Witness referred to frequent thefts of merchandise, principally whiskey, which was stolen from cars at High Springs while he was employed there.

G. H. Knight was in High Springs, and was seated on platform of passenger station at the time Sellars was shot. Just prior to the shooting he saw Davidson, J. M. Smith and Sellars standing together on the freight warehouse platform. Described the movements of the men, but did not notice anything unusual. As the shot was fired the trio had left the platform and started toward him. Davidson was in front, Smith second and Sellars in the rear. Heard Davidson say: "You boys come into the waiting room, and if there is anybody trying to rob these cars, we will catch them." About that time Davidson raised his left hand, pointing toward the track, and simultaneously a gun was fired from behind a flat car and Sellars fell. Another shot was fired. A few seconds after the first report witness ran into the colored waiting room; heard a number of shots afterward in vicinity of depot.

On cross-examination witness stated that he testified before the coroner's jury; that he thought this testimony was taken down in writing, but he did not sign the same. Witness did not tell all he knew, because he was afraid to do so. He did testify that a few moments after the shot which killed Sellars was fired, Claude Roland came from around the car from which the shot was fired. Roland had a pistol, but witness did not know whose pistol it was.

H. J. Mauchly resides at Jasper. Was employed as night operator of the Atlantic Coast Line on March 6, 1906. He saw Davidson and a man who was pointed out to him as Sellars standing on the depot platform. Witness stated that he also saw a man pass him wearing a rubber coat, and described the man. This was prior to the shooting. After the shooting (several minutes) witness saw the same man shooting in the vicinity of the Troy Hotel, across the street from the depot. He saw the man again the following day and recognized him as one he believed to be one McIlvaine.

On cross-examination witness stated that he testified before the coroner's jury, also at the habeas corpus proceedings, but did not tell all he knew.

When shot which struck Sellars was fired witness observed Smith with gun, and heard Davidson remark: "For God's sake don't shoot me." Smith and Davidson were then in the waiting room.

Asked if Special Agent Bryan of the Atlantic Coast Line had ever approached him in regard to this case, witness replied that Bryan had asked him to testify.

Sautters resides at Rochelle. Was in High Springs at transfer shed the night Sellars was killed and heard two shots. He proceeded toward the shops, and on the way two men passed within a few steps of him, whom he recognized as McIlvaine and Kelley. They were attired in what appeared to be rubber coats, and Kelley had a gun. Afterwards he saw Kelley and McIlvaine approach Davidson's place, when Kelley passed the gun in the window.

On cross-examination witness stated that he had never testified in this case before.

Witness said that he and D. M. Davidson were not on unfriendly terms, but admitted that he and Davidson's son had some trouble, and he did not like young Davidson. The defense brought out the fact that the trouble arose over an account the witness owed Davidson. This witness was also subjected to a severe cross-examination, being required by the aid of a sketch of the surroundings to indicate the point where the two men passed by him, and his movements from that point to Davidson's restaurant, where he testified the gun was passed in at the window.

Witness was asked if he had ever been convicted of any crime, to which he replied that he had been convicted of selling liquor in Georgia.

Witness had known Kelley three or four months, McIlvaine about four weeks.

D. D. Sledge of Jacksonville, an engineer, was employed by the Atlantic Coast Line in August, 1906. He was in High Springs the night Sellars was shot.

Shortly after 10 o'clock, while on his way from down town to the depot, he heard a shot, but paid no particular attention to it. Upon arriving at the depot witness saw Davidson, Pete Burkhart and one or two others. Davidson approached him, asking him if he had seen anyone down the track. Witness replied that he saw a man about some cars, whereupon Davidson informed him that the man was a special agent of the A. C. L. sent from Tampa to break up stealing, and that if he (referring to Sellars) did not get out of town he would have to be attended to. Davidson told witness that someone had shot at him (Davidson) that night.

Witness testified before the grand jury at Gainesville on two occasions. He did not tell before the grand jury the first time all he knew, only answering questions asked.

Witness denied that he was discharged by the A. C. L. because he refused to testify against Davidson, but, on account of reckless running. He was reinstated by the B. of L. E. about one month ago.

R. W. West knows defendant, James Kelley. Was living at High Springs the night Sellars was killed. Six or seven weeks after the killing, and within a few feet of the spot where Sellars was shot, he had a conversation with Kelley. It was a rainy afternoon, and witness had sought shelter under the eaves of the

CURE FOLLOWED YEAR OF AGONY

Intense Itching Eczema Drove Him Nearly to Despair—Chief Surgeon of a London Hospital Called It Worst Case He Had Ever Seen—Got Little or No Relief Until

CUTICURA STOPPED HIS UNBEARABLE TORTURE

"About four years ago, in London, I was troubled by a severe itching and dry, scurfy skin on my ankles and feet. The same, in a few days, was the case with my arms and scalp. I could hardly keep from scratching, which, I need hardly say, made it worse. Then large red patches appeared, with inflammation and soreness. After ten days, thousands of small red pimples formed. On becoming dry, these caused intense itching. I was advised to go to the hospital for disease of the skin. I did so, and was an out-patient for a month or more, the chief surgeon saying: 'I never saw such a bad case of eczema.' But I got little or no relief. Then I tried many so-called remedies, but I became so bad that I almost gave up in despair. On coming to this country I heard so many accounts of cures by Cuticura Remedies that I resolved, as a last resource, to give them a trial. This was after suffering agonies for twelve months, and right glad am I that I did so, for I was relieved of the almost unbearable itching after two or three applications of Cuticura Ointment. I continued its use, combined with a liberal use of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, and am more than thankful to say that after using three sets of the Remedies, I was completely cured. I can only add that, should anyone be suffering as I did, I hope that they will do as I did, and I am sure of the results. S. Henry Searle, 2022 Cross St., Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 8 and 10, '07."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c) to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c) to soothe the skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c, per box of 50) to purify the blood. freight depot, when Kelley came up with a gun, and requested him to hold the gun while he rolled a cigarette. While thus engaged, Kelley remarked:

"Look at that gun. Ain't she a 'bird'?"

To which witness replied that it looked like a good one.

"You are right, it's a good one," said Kelley. "This is the gun that put those holes in there (pointing to the perforations caused by the contents of the gun which killed Sellars) and I am the ——— who pulled the trigger."

Witness stated that he cautioned Kelley about speaking so freely of the affair.

Witness stated that shortly after the session of the grand jury in Gainesville, Davidson called him to one side in High Springs and told him he had heard that he and Pete Burkhart had testified before the jury against him. West replied that he did not know anything about Burkhart's testimony, but that he had said nothing against him. Davidson told witness that if he did testify against him and deprive him of his liberty he could not live in High Springs.

A cross-examination failed to develop anything additional, except that the witness held a position as section foreman.

J. L. Shaw is a deputy sheriff residing in Baker county. Was night officer at High Springs shortly after the killing of Sellars. Kelley, J. M. Grainger and witness were standing in the vicinity of where Sellars fell. Kelley appeared to be angered at the yard foreman, and remarked: "I have three on my string now (holding up three fingers), and if that ——— yard master don't let me alone I'll make it four."

Witness stated that upon one occasion Kelley told him that he killed Sellars.

Nothing of importance developed upon cross-examination of this witness.

At 12:30 court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The court was called to order at 2 p. m.

J. L. Shaw, deputy sheriff of Baker county, who was on the stand when court adjourned at noon, was recalled for a brief cross-examination.

The next witness called was D. W. Jernigan of Savannah, Ga., a special officer in Judge Van Geisels' court.

Resided in Savannah for about 21 years, with exception of eleven months, during which he lived in Jacksonville.

Witness knew defendant (Kelley) both in Savannah and Jacksonville. Saw Kelley in Jacksonville in September, 1904. Witness at that time was working for A. C. L. at Jacksonville. Said Kelley told him that Sellars, a special agent of the A. C. L., had arrived in High Springs for the purpose of breaking up the stealing of whiskey from the cars at High Springs. He stated that Kelley related the details of a conspiracy to kill Sellars, stating that Kelley told him he fired the gun which killed Sellars.

During the revelation of this story Kelley created a mild sensation in court by rising in his seat, looking straight into the eyes of the witness and emphatically exclaiming: "You lie like a dog!" The defendant was drawn back into his chair.

The witness was severely cross-examined. Said that Kelley's first and subsequent conversation regarding the killing of Sellars was in substance the same as already related. He reported the matter to Mr. Bryan of the A. C. L., for whom he was working at the time.

Witness admitted that he expected to receive his expenses and $5 a day for coming to court to testify in this case. Upon being asked by counsel for defense from whom he expected the $5 per day, witness replied, "from Mr. Bryan."

The State Rests.

At the conclusion of the examination of this witness Attorney Rivers announced that the State would rest.

Court took a recess of an hour in order for attorneys for defense to confer, and was called to order again at 4:10 p. m.

J. H. Fields was recalled. Witness was asked if he knew Miss Davidson, to which he replied that he did. Denied that he was with her for an hour before the shooting of Sellars.

H. L. Thomas was the first witness for defense. Knew James Kelley; was living in High Springs at the time Sellars was shot and at the time the gun was fired he was with Kelley at a table in the restaurant eating a lunch. Someone rushed in and said Davidson was shot. Davidson came in a second later and remarked: "Boys, a man has been shot, let's go and find out something about it."

Witness, Davidson, Kelley and others went to scene, where he saw Sellars laying down.

On cross-examination witness stated that he was employed as a machinist in the A. C. L. shops at the time. Kelley was dressed in his working clothes, with black shirt and dark trousers. There were a number of people in the restaurant at the time the shot was fired.

Witness afterward went to work for Davidson, because he desired lighter employment.

J. L. O'Neal knows James Kelley; was in High Springs the night Sellars was killed. Was in Davidson's restaurant when the guns were fired, and Kelley was also in the restaurant.

On cross-examination, witness stated that his home is at Largo, but that he held a position as brakeman on the Coast Line.

Two or three days after the killing, when it was intimated that Kelley was suspected, he remarked to Kelley that he (witness) could not see how he (Kelley) could be suspected, as he would swear he was in the restaurant at the time the gun was fired.

After guns were fired witness went to the scene with crowd, where he saw Sellars laying down.

Mrs. Fannie Smith knows James Kelley; was in High Springs the night Sellars was killed. She and her husband were going home from the shops, and stopped at the restaurant for a moment, as Mr. Smith wanted some cigars. Kelley was in the restaurant at the time. After they left the restaurant and had gone a few steps, the two shots were fired. She heard other shots, but was somewhat excited and did not know how many. Witness went immediately home, going by the rock road.

There were several gentlemen in the restaurant, but Kelley was the only man she recognized, as Kelley bowed and spoke to her. Witness stated that her husband is dead, and that she now resides in Gainesville. She was not aware of Kelley's arrest until she saw him in the Alachua county jail, where she went with some other ladies to visit some prisoners.

Court adjourned until 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

This case continues to attract a

ANOTHER SHUT OUT BY THE OAK HALLS

WIN THIRD AND LAST GAME OF SERIES FROM CORDELE.

Superb fielding coupled up with good batting enabled the local team to take the third game of the series with the Cordele club, making three straight victories.

The Oak Halls showed considerable improvement yesterday over the two former games, both in the field and at the bat. Lawson pitched for the Oaks and heaved a pretty game, holding the Georgians safe at all times, as they could not get the necessary bingles when they were needed.

The visitors were clearly outclassed, as they could not break up the fast work of the home team. By winning the first three games gives Manager Davis' boys a good start, and they are now in prime condition to meet anything in the State.

The visitors will leave today for Ocala, where they are scheduled to play a three-game series with the Brick City team.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER LAID TO THE CHINESE

NEW YORK, June 23.—Until a deposit, mostly built Chinese, well educated, and when last seen dressed in a black suit of American cut, is under arrest and put through the "third degree," it is likely the murder of Elsie Sigel, granddaughter of the old German Civil War hero, will remain unsolved.

Leong Kung, alias Leong Lee Lim, alias William L. Leon, alias William L. Lion, converted Mongolian, restaurant proprietor, admirer of white women and lover of Elsie Sigel, in the case. When or how he left New York while the girl's body lay cramped and decomposing in a battered trunk in the stuffy little room he formerly occupied, remains to be learned. With him is supposed to be his erstwhile room mate, Shun Sin.

Some reports say that they are on their way to Vancouver, via Panama.

Few murder cases have developed more rapidly and at the same time come no nearer solution. That part of the story unraveled here Sunday brought out principally the mysterious phases of the girl's life; her apparent craze for mission work among the Chinese, her associations with the man who is supposed to have killed her and lastly the fact that on his account she left home June 9. It has also come out that the girl's mother, now prostrated according to reports, had been fearful of her daughter's safety ever since her disappearance and had searched Chinatown day after day without success.

Both parents cling to the evasive clue that a telegram signed "E. S." was sent from Washington, D. C., on the fatal Wednesday. This message read:

"Will be home Sunday or soon. Do not worry."

The father, it is thought, hurried to Washington yesterday to determine whether the telegram was sent by his daughter or as a blind. The police maintain it was sent by a Chinaman quickly after the murder to aid the murderer to escape.

Leon or Lion and Shun Sin were well-to-do. Investigation shows that they conducted four restaurants. Elsie Sigel's entry into the mysterious ways of the Chinese came through her now grief-stricken mother, who was long identified with Sunday schools and mission work in Chinatown.

When Leon, whom she met at his Fort George restaurant, became attentive, he was received in the Sigel home and continued his associations with the girl until his love became violent. Then, it is said, her father forbade him the house. It was then that Elsie, although afraid of her father, deserted her home never to be seen alive again by any of her household. Where she went directly after leaving home, whether she joined the Chinaman or was "lured to the room and murdered, must be cleared up.

The following note, undated, was found in Leon's effects:

"You seem to be growing cold to me. Just think of the sacrifice I have made for you, my family, my friends. For God's sake don't forsake me. (Signed) ELISIE."

Motive for Murder.

As to the motive for the murder, the police are inclined to accept, first, jealousy and the love mania. The girl was loved by at least one other Chinaman, an Leon. A letter to Leon, threatening him if he persisted in his attentions, gives a clue to this phase of the case. A Celestial known as Yun Bing is known to have admired her.

Three Chinamen associated with the restaurant keeper, Sun Leung, above whose "place" the body was found, have been arrested, but are held only as material witnesses. Sun Leung is missing.

In the meantime, physicians are making a more minute examination of the body and its organs. An autopsy held this afternoon determined that the victim died from asphyxiation, but since there were indications of poison present a chemical analysis will be necessary.

Franz Sigel, an uncle of the girl, and one of the four sons who survive Franz Sigel, has come to the aid of the stricken family of his brother. For some time, it is said, he has been estranged from them because of Mrs. Sigel's activity among the Chinese. He said he warned her many times against associating with Chinese in the hope of converting them to Christianity.

"Speaking as the uncle of Elsie Sigel," he said, "I would warn all women against association with Chinamen, either in church or otherwise. I do not believe that one in a thousand of the so-called conversions of Chinamen is genuine."

"My niece was innocent. She honestly believed it was her mission to Christianize Chinamen."

"Too late she realized that the feeling of the Mongolian toward white women is animal feeling. I believe this Chinaman Leon killed Elsie in a spirit of animal revenge."

The body has been identified by the family as that of Elsie Sigel, and the latest news indicates that her murderers will never be run down.

SPECIAL INTEREST TO PENSION APPLICANTS

All blanks on prescribed forms must be correctly filled out, applicant's name must be signed in full and the signature attested by two witnesses.

Widows must sign their own Christian names, and not the names of their husbands.

All applications must be submitted to the county commissioners of the county in which the applicant resides before filing in the pension department.

Applicants will save needless trouble and delay by complying carefully with the above instructions, as all claims not properly filled out will be returned for correction.

All persons will be required to make a renewal of application, but further proof of service will not be required of former pensioners of this State if the former claim is in compliance with the provisions of the act of 1909.

All claims will be filed immediately upon receipt in the pension department and will be considered as promptly as possible, applicants notified of the disposition of their claims, and certificates and vouchers forwarded to all persons allowed pensions under the act of 1909.

Under the act of 1909 only persons who served in the Confederate States army or navy and in the First Regiment of Florida Reserves and their widows will be granted pensions.

No State troops or home guards of this or any other State will be pensioned under this act.

All former pensioners whose claims were allowed upon certificate of the adjutant of a camp of Confederate Veterans will be required to furnish the affidavit of a commissioned officer under whom he served, or of two comrades with whom he served or a transcript from the office of the Adjutant General at Washington showing the service claimed.

No person who owns property to exceed the value of $5,000 or whose property both real and personal (including the property of his wife) exceeds the value of $5,000 will be pensioned.

The affidavit of two reputable physicians will be required to establish total disability.

Applicants are earnestly requested to comply fully with the above instructions and not to burden this office with unnecessary correspondence, so that the work of revision of the pension roll can be completed in time to make the October payment at the end of the quarter.

The necessary blanks can be obtained from the clerks of the circuit courts in the different counties, or from the Comptroller's office, after July 1st.

JEFFERSON BELL,
Sec'y State Board of Pensions.

Another Negro Injured.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun: Another mill hand employed at the sawmill of T. J. Swearingen was brought here yesterday, his head having been crushed in by a scantling. It was just an accident, and no blame can be attached to anyone about the mill. He was given medical attention and returned to the mill until he has sufficiently recovered to resume his occupation.

Honeymoon in Balloon Is the Latest Wrinkle

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 21.—Floating off up through cloudland in the balloon Pittsfield, shortly after midnight Saturday morning, Roger Noble Burnham, a sculptor and Harvard '98 man of Brookline, and his bride, who was Eleanor Howard Waring, an authoress, also of Brookline, began an aerial honeymoon. The incident was unique in aeronautical history, and fully 5,000 people sent up shouts of good will and happiness into the dark night.

The couple were married by the Rev. John Harvey, at the summer home of Miss Fay in Woods Hole yesterday. The couple immediately took the train for Pittsfield, where Pilot William Vansleet had received orders to have a balloon in readiness for a honeymoon trip. The couple arrived here at 10:15 and soon after went to Aero Park. The largest crowd which has yet witnessed a balloon ascension in Pittsfield was on hand.

In the gathering were eight newly wed couples who came over from fashionable Lenox. They included Charles Daniel, the world's champion swimmer, and Mrs. Daniels; William Dodge, the actor, and his bride, formerly Miss Helen Hale, the actress, and Mr. and Mrs. Branley Welch of Philadelphia.

The balloon went up at 12:45 and floated off to the northwest with but little wind blowing.

The balloon voyage was brought down about a mile from the center of Holbrook, Mass., at 4:20 a. m. Sunday, after a pleasant and uneventful trip.

The distance covered was about 120 miles.

Until the break of dawn the aeronauts had no idea of their exact location, but when the sun arose they were able to see blue hills and Boston harbor, and found they were being taken in a southeasterly direction, which, if followed, would carry them out to sea. A landing was then made, and Mr. and Mrs. Burnham continued on their uniquely begun honeymoon.

Standard Oil Co. Will Comply With Ordinance

The Standard Oil Company will comply with the city ordinance in reference to the new fire proof tank for the storing of their goods within the city limits, but the question that now confronts the business houses is how will they be supplied with oil until the tank can be erected.

Some immediate action will have to be taken, for under the present law, D. H. Edwards, the agent here, will not be allowed to store more than 175 gallons of oil in the tank, and that would be far insufficient to go around the square for any day that the wagon is out on its rounds.

The present crisis was touched from the fact that he was endeavoring to build the works of the tank, and was carrying more than the law allowed, and consequently was arrested and appeared before Mayor Davis.

The Atlantic Coast Line Wants West Main Street

The City Council held a special meeting Monday night for the purpose of receiving the proposed plans from the A. C. L. Railway Company to erect a shed over West Main street for a distance of about four hundred feet.

There was much discussion, and for a while it looked as if the request of the company was going to be granted, regardless of what the citizens might say, but after a lengthy address by Cols. B. A. Thrasher and R. E. Davis, the latter speaking only for the city's interest, the matter was referred to the ordinance committee and the city attorney to draw up a special ordinance covering the same.

Col. Thrasher appeared in behalf of a number of citizens who had petitioned the council to refuse the request and asked the council to refuse the request and asked the council to refuse the request.

The Jacksonville agent for the company was here, and he was very much surprised to find that the city would not grant his request, and if granted it would be subject to all proper ordinances.

After such a strong opinion by the citizens, it is highly probable that the request will be denied, although some other plan will have to be submitted for the better accommodation of the public.

This matter will come up at the next regular meeting of the city council, in July, and as the citizens have been concerned in this matter, it is probable that they will vote probably to refuse the request.

Officers Killed Negro Desperado Near Starke

STARKE, June 21.—The negro murderer, "Folly" Swaggard, was shot and killed near Highland Saturday morning by officers in making the arrest.

The negro had been seen at Black's still Thursday evening and the sheriff was notified and deputies went in pursuit and hunted in the large swamps northwest of Highland, the hunt continuing until Saturday morning, when the negro was first seen by an unarmed woods rider of Mr. Black's, the negro drawing the gun on him and asking him what he was out there for. Being satisfied that he was not hunting for him, he asked the way to Ralston, which was pointed out.

Mallie Jones and Jeff Jones, after an all night's search as well as the day and night before, stopped at the house of "Buck" Williamson, who told them he had a dog that would track negroes. The three started up the road toward the swamp and then the negro was seen and the officers were shot and killed by the negro, who then opened fire on the officers. The fire was returned and the negro killed, thus ending the career of a monster to human life. Two much wanted men were given to Mallie Jones, left not be given to Mallie Jones, left not be given to Mallie Jones, left not be given to Mallie Jones.

Sheriff Langford can well be proud of his campaign against this desperado.

Isn't there something which only a want ad. can do for you today?

Drivers of Automobiles Must Obey the Ordinance

W. G. Richardson, who is acting marshal during the absence of B. F. Arnow, stated to the reporter on Tuesday that numerous complaints were being lodged against the drivers of automobiles in this city.

On one occasion Tuesday a lady registered three complaints against different machines and their drivers, and the marshal conferred with the mayor in reference to speed of the machines and just what the ordinance provided.

Now that the ladies have taken some hand in the matter, it is very probable that something will be done to confine the autos to the speed limit in, and about the city.

Marshal Richardson stated that he would see every one of the drivers reported personally and ask them to pay some attention to the law, and also in regard to frightening horses, which requires that they show or walk down the machine, if necessary, while a horse is passing, and unless something is done by these to comply, arrests will follow.

Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Ointment for constipation, stomach and liver troubles, as it sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Ointment today? J. W. McCollum & Co.

GOOD OPPORTUNITY TO VISIT DENVER

EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION TO MEET AT DENVER.

Chief Railroad Rates from Florida for One of the Most Notable Gatherings of the Year.

The forty-seventh annual convention of the National Educational Association of the United States will be held in Denver, Colo., July 23, 1909.

For all the meetings of this great body of educators the one to be held in Denver this year will be the most important. The program is exceptionally fine.

Denver is preparing to entertain the convention most royally, and the summer vacation can be most pleasantly spent in this attractive city and its vicinity.

The Brown Palace Hotel (European plan) will be executive headquarters. This hotel has also been selected as headquarters for the Florida delegation. Rooms without bath, $2 per day, with bath, $2.50 to $3.50 per day. At other hotels and boarding-houses, rates range from 50 cents to $1 per day.

Railroad Rates.

The following are the rates granted for the round trip from these points, and correspondingly low rates have been given from all other points within the State:

Jacksonville	$52.67
Tallahassee	45.90
Daytona	39.25
Maitland Springs	45.90
Orlando	59.70
Lawton	52.45
Omaha	55.80
Portland	57.00
Portland	47.80
Omaha, Pa. Road	70.45

Portland, Ore., from Jacksonville one way, $10.50. The above rates are authorized by all railroads going out of the State.

Tickets will be valid July 1st to 4th, inclusive, with return built July 30, 1909. Slightly increased rates sum-mer season tickets may be purchased, with return built October 31, 1909.

The Florida delegation will leave Jacksonville on Thursday evening, the 1st, at 8:15, at 7:45 o'clock via the Southern Railway, the schedule being as follows: Leave Jacksonville (Southern Railway) at 7:45 p. m. Thursday; arrive Kansas City (Prison) at 10:15 a. m. Saturday; leave Kansas City (C. R. I. & P.) at 11:20 a. m. Saturday; arrive Denver (C. R. I. & P.) at 5:30 a. m. Sunday.

LESS THAN THREE WEEKS.

Owens Has But Little Time Left to Prepare Himself.

R. H. Owens, the condemned white man, now has less than three weeks' time in which to prepare for the fate he is to meet, and it is a very noticeable fact that no change has come over the man in the past few weeks. He is still of the same "don't-care state," and is rather indifferent to his future, although at times he declares he has made his peace with God.

He has addressed another lengthy letter to The Sun, but it is practically the same as before, and he still has strong hopes of receiving consideration from the Governor.

Attorneys Matheson and Thrasher have again taken steps in his behalf and will do everything possible to have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life, while it is understood that Rev. Hay will appeal to the Governor in Owens' behalf. His time to die is Friday, July 30th.

Colored People's Big Day.

The colored people of the Atlas section celebrated Children's Day in a very befitting manner on June 13 at Jerusalem Baptist church, and it was largely attended from all sections.

Rev. B. M. Bryant, pastor of the church, was absent, but Irene Galtney very ably managed the affairs, and with the assistance of Profs. Wilson and Cromety, a grand day was enjoyed.

The recitations and work of the children was especially pleasing, and in all it was a day that will long be remembered by the colored population of that entire section.

Mrs. L. U. Doane of Waldo, who has been the guest of Mrs. Lang in this city for the past few days, returned to her home yesterday.

Col. B. A. Thrasher left yesterday for Atlanta, Ga. He expects to be absent for the next several days on important business matters.

W. M. Burch of Tacoma, one of the progressive citizens of that place and also an extensive contractor there, was a visitor to Gainesville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rosenberger of Tacoma were in the city yesterday on a shopping expedition. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Gertha.

Miss Effie Pettit, an attractive young lady of Waldo, has returned to her home after having spent the past few days in Gainesville visiting friends.

S. B. Philfer of High Springs was in the city yesterday en route to Palatka, where he was called as a witness in the Kelley-Davidson case now being heard in the Gem City.

Glenn Stringfellow returned to his home here on Monday, after having completed his course at the University of Georgia, at Athens. His numerous friends are very glad to welcome him home again.

Capt. B. W. Fontane of Micanopy was a visitor to the city yesterday. He was among the large number of successful planters the past season, and as a consequence is feeling happy over his returns.

Mrs. W. C. Smith of Tacoma was in the city yesterday en route to her home. She is the mother of Calvert Smith, the Time-Union cartoonist, and was returning from a short visit to him in Jacksonville.

A. M. Pettit of Alachua, the hustling blacksmith and wheelwright of that place, was a visitor to Gainesville yesterday. He states that business is good and the people of his section have no cause for complaint.

Capt. W. P. Shettlesworth of Evidon, one of the largest melon and cantaloupe growers of that part of Florida, was a visitor to the city yesterday. He states that the dry weather has caused the melon crop to be small.

Chas. F. Williams of Montgomery, Ala., is visiting his father, Jno. J. Williams of North-Gainesville. He was for several years a resident of this city, when he was electrician for the Gainesville Electric Company, and his Gainesville friends are pleased to meet him again.

Mrs. W. O. Tison and daughter, Miss Martha, left yesterday for a visit of a few days to Worthington Springs, in the hope that the change will prove beneficial to the former.

They were accompanied by J. Mason Tison of Ocala, who came up to pay a short visit to his parents.

From Thursday's Daily Sun:

J. B. Kennard of Waldo was in the city Tuesday.

C. W. Bauknight of Archer was among the visitors to the city Tuesday.

S. P. Nipper of Newberry was transacting business in the city yesterday.

P. S. Smith, one of the liverymen of Newberry, was among the visitors to the city Tuesday.

A. T. Gunter of Trenton, the liveryman of that place, was transacting business in the city yesterday.

Geo. B. Evans, who has been spending the past few weeks in Jacksonville, has returned to his home here.

J. G. Dampier of Hague, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, was among the visitors here yesterday.

M. J. Ward of Tacoma, one of the prosperous citizens of that section, was transacting business in the city Tuesday.

O. R. Green, one of the prominent citizens of the Windsor section, was transacting business in Gainesville Tuesday.

S. G. Gay of Trenton was in the city yesterday en route to his home. He had just returned from a visit to points south.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McKinney of Rex were among the visitors to the city yesterday. Mr. McKinney operates the sawmill plant at that place.

F. J. Hagood of Jacksonville, a former citizen of Micanopy, and who still owns property in that place, was among the visitors to the city Tuesday.

Jesse Manning left yesterday for a short business visit to Palatka, having been called there to look after some horses he had sold to citizens of that section.

M. M. Holt of Jonesville was among the visitors to the city yesterday. He has again started his sawmill in operation and is kept busy supplying the local demand.

Mrs. A. H. King of Jacksonville arrived in the city yesterday to be present here for the next few days with her father, Capt. S. C. Tucker, who is ill in East Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tison of Trenton, accompanied by their children, are visiting in the city. Mr. Tison is engaged in the mercantile business at that place and reports an excellent trade for this season of the year.

S. L. Turner, one of the vegetable growers near Micanopy, was a visitor to the city yesterday. He states that the farmers are now shipping a great many melons, but that the dry weather has had a tendency to shorten the crop.

Miss Elise Barker, who has been visiting the family of J. F. Bunch for the past ten days, has returned to her home in South Carolina. During her sojourn here she made a number of friends who will be pleased to again welcome her to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Robinson returned yesterday from a visit of some weeks to points in Georgia. It will be remembered that only a short time since Mr. Robinson had the misfortune to have his foot badly mangled by a railroad iron falling on it, but he has sufficiently recovered to enable him to get around.

An Enjoyable Afternoon Ride.

ALACHUA, June 22.—A party of happy young folks spent an enjoyable afternoon ride last Friday evening, June 18th. The party was composed of Misses Florence, Lula, and Addie Bethea, Mrs. Mamie Floyd and Bulah Gay, while the young men were Messrs. St. Pierre, Moyer, Stewart, Bethea and Arthur Lane. Mrs. Mamie Floyd acted as chaperon.

The evening was a pleasant one and exceedingly enjoyed by every member of the party. The young ladies were dressed in beautiful party dresses, as they were going to an ice cream supper near Bland, but, changing their course, went to Fidelity church, near Cadillac. Service was just over with when they arrived, which they regretted very much.

The happy crowd returned home near the hour of midnight.

Each one declares it was the most pleasant afternoon they ever had the pleasure of enjoying, and extend heartiest congratulations to the chaperon, who looked very handsome in the light of the pale moon.

MRS. MADDOX MAKES A HANDSOME GAIN

POLLS LARGEST VOTE IN COUNT OF WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Only a Few More Weeks in Which to Get Busy for Handsome Capital Prizes.

The voting in the Co-Operative Contest has been lively since last Monday.

Miss Hattie English of Tacoma again takes the lead in the Southern and Eastern Section, Miss Hattie Ludwig holds first in the Western, and Miss Addie Goode makes a gain on Miss Beal in the Gainesville section, with all candidates receiving handsome votes, the largest, however, being Mrs. H. Maddox of Archer, who again takes second place in the Western Section.

If you have not already tried The Sun plan of getting votes while you are idle at your homes, you had better send for a subscription list of your section and get busy. You can collect up and get the votes, besides you will have the list and you will know better who to approach and ask to subscribe for the paper.

While you are thus engaged in soliciting for the paper you can remind your friends of the business houses that are in the contest and have them remember them when visiting the city.

Miss Lucinda Bryant sends in two clubs to the weekly, which shows what one can do when you make an effort.

Following is the result of the canvass:

KILLING AT LACROSSE.

One Negro Kills Another About a Woman—Meagre Particulars.

News of another killing comes from LaCrosse, which occurred at that place on last Saturday.

Hon. J. G. Dampier, commissioner from that district, states that the weapon used was a double barrel shotgun, and that nine buckshot from the load took effect in the negro, from which he died within a very short while.

None of the particulars could be learned, further than the negro that did the killing was named Powell and that the fight occurred over a woman.

Following the shooting the negro made his escape and has since not been apprehended, although they believe that he will come in within the next few days and give himself up to the authorities.

Funeral of Little Child.

The funeral services of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Perry, which died in Ocala, were held from the residence of G. W. Brabham in South Gainesville Wednesday afternoon, Rev. S. B. Rogers preaching the sermon. A large number of friends and acquaintances followed the remains to their last resting place in Evergreen Cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Fielding.

News was received in Gainesville Wednesday of the sudden death of Mrs. Fielding, which occurred at Lake Butler. Her son, Col T. W. Fielding, who came in from Starke on the noon train over the Seaboard yesterday, left on the Coast Line for that place.

First and last in foods.

When all is said and done on the cereal food question the fact remains that for economy and for results in health and strength, Quaker Oats stands first of all. It is the most popular food in the world among the foods sold in packages. It keeps fresh and sweet indefinitely.

If it's printed stationery you want. The Sun office is the place to get it.
